

THE ALUMNAE NEWS

PROPERTY OF LIBRARY OF THE
AUG 1 - 1936
WOMAN'S COLLEGE
UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

The Woman's College of The University of North Carolina

JULY • • 1936

THE ALUMNAE NEWS

PUBLISHED FOUR TIMES A YEAR: JULY, NOVEMBER, FEBRUARY AND APRIL BY THE ALUMNAE AND FORMER STUDENTS ASSOCIATION OF THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, GREENSBORO

MEMBER OF AMERICAN ALUMNI COUNCIL

CLARA BOOTH BYRD, Editor

OFFICERS AND BOARD MEMBERS

President, DR. MARY POTEAT
Vice President, MRS. C. A. STREET (JULIA MONTGOMERY)
Honorary President, LAURA H. COIT
General Secretary, CLARA B. BYRD

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Louise Clinard Wrenn (Mrs. M. J.), Ruth Vick Everett (Mrs. T. R.), Josie Doub Bennett (Mrs. J. R.), Gertrude Carraway, Virginia Batte Johnson (Mrs. Jos. W.), Lillie Boney Williams (Mrs. R. Murphy), Marion Stevens Hood (Mrs. Gurney P.), Carrie Tabor Stevens (Mrs. C. E.), Emma L. Speight Morris (Mrs. Claude).

Vol. XXV

JULY, 1936

No. 1

CONTENTS

	PAGE
TO THE ALUMNAE FROM THEIR PRESIDENT Mary Poteat .....	1
FROM DEAN JACKSON'S PHI BETA KAPPA ADDRESS .....	1
SPOTLIGHTS ON ALUMNAE DAY .....	2
DR. GOVE .....	5
THE PERSON — Annie McIver Young
THE PHYSICIAN — Margaret Kernodle
THE BUILDING FUND REPORT .....	7
REPORT OF ALUMNAE HOUSE BUILDING COMMITTEE .....	7
COMMENT AND REVIEW .....	8
MEETING OF THE CONSOLIDATED BOARD OF TRUSTEES .....	9
REUNIONS—1899, 1900, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1925, 1926, 1929, 1931, 1934, 1935 ..	9
KEEPING UP WITH THE ALUMNAE .....	13

Patronize Our Advertisers

	PAGE
Curlee Drapery Shop .....	16
E. A. Woodell—Printing .....	18
Sancton & Dickerson— Jewelers and Optometrists .....	19
Odell Hardware Co. ....	21
Phil R. Carlton— Real Estate, Insurance, Etc. ....	22
The Arcade Beauty Shop .....	23
Jos. J. Stone & Co.—Printing .....	24
Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. ....	Back Cover
Mock-Judson-Voehringer— Hosiery .....	Back Cover

Admitted as second-class matter at the postoffice in Greensboro, N. C., June 29, 1912.
 Annual subscription two dollars.

To the Alumnae
from their President

AS I sit thinking of you this morning, I find myself fingering my college ring. I see engraved inside one word—Service, and I know that a plea for the rededication of ourselves to the ideal of our college motto is the first message that I would bring as your new president.

Such rededication I believe can become most productive at the present time in two practical ways.

We should organize additional alumnae clubs and associations in every county in the state, and in cities outside the state, throughout the nation, where the alumnae population will justify an organization. These organized groups are outposts of our College, centers of inspiration for those who attend their meetings, intelligence bureaus for learning of the opportunities for service offered by our College, meeting points for alumnae and college thinking, and sources of encouragement for those who "carry on" in the front line trenches on the campus. It is my fervent hope that other groups will be organized this year.

Alumnae House itself is finished and paid for, but there is one last hill to climb—it must be furnished. The furnishings have been planned, bids opened, and several of the most urgent contracts let. But fortunately, more funds are needed. I say fortunately because not all alumnae have yet contributed to the erection of the House, and not one of us should miss the opportunity of sharing in the ownership of a thing so lovely as this building is. Alumnae House is truly a thing of beauty, a work of art. Moreover, it is a dream of Service come true—through the untiring efforts of an inspired building committee and the loyal support of alumnae over a period of many years. Do something now to help. Send the largest contribution you can make, and ask others to join you. All together, we shall climb this hill.

Other objectives lie beyond, but now—these two: the organization of additional alumnae groups, and the furnishing of our House—both in the name of Service.

MARY POTEAT,

President of the General Alumnae Association.

From Dean Jackson's Address . . .
Phi Beta Kappa Exercises
March 10, Aycock Auditorium

The precious stone we call the diamond, in its natural state, is uncouth, irregular in form, and without usefulness or beauty. The lapidary takes it and with patience, intelligence, and skill transforms its uneven contour into a series of smooth and regular surfaces. Each of these surface planes we call a facet. The beauty of the stone is determined by the number and perfection of these facets.

Even so, the jewel of the good life, fashioned by time and circumstance and master workmen, has a number of facets. One of these facets is the thinking mind—a mind that is accurate, informed, and discriminating. Another of these facets is discipline—the ability to master and control and direct one's way. Another is imagination—the loosening of the winged god within us; the capacity to see more than the eye's retina records; the ability that enables one "who, having seen a leaf, and a drop of water, can construct the forests, the rivers, and the seas"; catching the gleam of the "light that never was on sea nor land."

And yet another is tolerance—the spirit that overflows the boundaries of race, of faith, of opinion, of class, and of sex, and gives us freedom—freedom of thought and speech and action and life itself.

Another is beauty—the beauty of sound and form and motion; of land and sea and sky. But far more than these there is the beauty of persons, of laws, of institutions, of science—that beauty which, as Socrates says, "will bring forth true creations of virtue and wisdom, and make one the friend of God, and the heir of immortality."

And then there is the facet we may call scholarship—learning, information, knowledge—the furnishing of the mind with the treasures of art and science and letters and philosophy—made vivid and real to us today in the persons of those who have proven to be its true representatives. We are glad to do honor to them, and through them magnify the qualities they represent. So, we fix our gaze today on this particular facet—the plane of scholarship—and admire its virtues and beauty and usefulness.

Nevertheless, the while we do so, we will not forget that the gem of which it is a part will not reveal its full radiance unless we turn it about in the sunlight of life, and see the other lustrous surfaces of intelligence and discipline and tolerance and imagination and beauty.

Spotlights on Alumnae Day

For the alumnae, commencement gets really under way when the alumnae president calls the annual meeting of the Association to order on the morning of Alumnae Day. This year, Emma Lewis Speight Morris, well-experienced from past occasions, started the wheels to turning promptly at eleven by the clock on the wall in the auditorium of Students Building. At that hour, and in that place, she declared us convened—the largest General Assembly, save one, ever to meet on the campus—and asked that we stand to receive the members of the senior class, who according to long tradition marched in, wearing caps and gowns, singing their class song. At their head came Louise Bell, class president, daughter of Lilla Davis Mann, of the class of 1912, accompanied by Dean W. C. Jackson. Immediately following, came Mary Louise Shepherd, newly elected everlasting president, accompanied by Virginia Batte Johnson, representing the Alumnae Board of Trustees. In brief time, the class had been presented for membership by Mrs. Johnson, and accepted by the Association; Louise Bell had made graceful acknowledgement; we had all sung the College Song together, and were seated again, listening eagerly to the presidential voice speaking words of welcome to the new recruits and to the alumnae at large.

DEAN JACKSON SPEAKS

In fitting words, Mrs. Morris presented Dean Jackson, who first added his own warm welcome to that of our president. Dr. Jackson reviewed the work of the College during the past year, mentioning

Presenting the New Officers of the Alumnae Association for the Coming Year, and the New Members of the Board of Trustees

President: Dr. Mary Poteat '19, Durham.

Vice President: Julia Montgomery Street (Mrs. C. A.) '23, Winston-Salem.

Members of the Board of Trustees: Lillie Boney Williams (Mrs. R. Murphy) '98, Greensboro; Marion Stevens Hood (Mrs. Gurney P.) '10, Raleigh; Carrie Tabor Stevens (Mrs. C. E.) '20, Councils.

Auditing Committee: Edwin a Deans '25, Greensboro; Marjorie Kennedy White (Mrs. E. E.) '07, Greensboro; Carey Ogburn Jones (Mrs. W. C.) '99, High Point.

especially the four new departments which had been organized—the department of Art, the department of Classical Civilization (Latin and Greek), the department of Philology, and the department of Public Relations. He also presented concisely certain outstanding needs of the college, and bespoke the assistance of the alumnae in meeting these needs—an organ for the auditorium; scholarships and loan funds for the increasing number who are applying for them; students of excellence. The Dean especially emphasized the need of funds with which to aid students, not only to begin their college education, but to continue it. We heard Dean Jackson with keen appreciation, and regretted that he could not remain with us, since his presence was required at the meeting of the Consolidated Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina, in session also at that hour.

Other Features and Committee Reports

Mary Clare Stokes, elected by the Class of 1936 to be the senior speaker this year, used as her subject, "A Senior Takes a Backward and a Forward Look." In her admirable short talk she enumerated the main events in the four years of college life just past, paralleled without fear of comparison the loyalty of her class to their Alma Mater, and gave voice to the faith and confidence of its members in the future that lay ahead.

Mary Louise Shepherd, everlasting president, recognized by the chair, announced that the Class of 1936 was leaving in the Alumnae Office pledges to a Class Fund, totaling $1,049.00, the first payment due March 1, 1937, the amount covering subscriptions to the Organ Fund, and membership in the Alumnae Association.

The alumnae president next called for committee reports. Zelian Hunter Helms, reporting for the Auditing Committee, said that the committee had examined the books of the Alumnae Association and found them to be accurate in every detail.

Ruth Vick Everett read the financial report of the Alumnae House Fund. (This report is published on another page.)

In the absence of May Lovelace Tomlinson, chairman, who was attending the meeting of the Consolidated Board of Trustees, Flosie Harris Spruill, member of the Alumnae House Building Committee, read the report of the committee, prepared by Mrs. Tomlinson and published on another page. These reports were accepted.

An Additional Sum of $12,000 Needed to Furnish and Equip Alumnae House

Our president, Mrs. Morris, referred to the meeting of the Alumnae Board of Trustees in session that morning, saying that the Alumnae House Building Committee must have $12,000.00 additional with which to furnish and equip Alumnae House in a manner befitting the beauty of its architecture and the uses it would serve.

MRS. CLAUDE MORRIS
Retiring President of the Alumnae Association

At this point, our presiding officer presented Dr. Foust, and asked him to speak to the alumnae. Dr. Foust expressed his love for the alumnae of the Woman's College, and his interest in all that affects their welfare. He had spent the greater part of the past year directing the construction of the House. The additional sum needed to furnish the House must be found. "I want you to help me get this money," he concluded.

Josie Doub Bennett spoke with force and enthusiasm about the necessity of raising the fund. She also emphasized the fact that bids had been opened by the Alumnae House Building Committee; that the contracts were ready to be signed; that the cost of furniture was going up; and that the contracts would be voided at the present figures unless they were signed within the next few weeks — thereby necessitating that the work in connection with awarding the contracts be done all over again, at an augmented price. Em Austin and Lillie Boney Williams also spoke for the Fund.

Announcement was made that by request of the Alumnae Board of Trustees statements would be sent from the Alumnae Office to all those who were still due payments on their subscriptions to the Fund, giving them an opportunity to help now.

Corinne Cannady, vice president of the General Association, and chairman of the Committee on the All-Reunion Sunset Supper, described the plans which the Committee had made for the supper to be held on the Quadrangle that evening. She made us feel that the supper would be the high peak of the commencement season!

Mrs. Morris next called the impressive roll of classes, beginning with the Class of 1893. Every class in the history of the college was represented in the General Assembly, except possibly the Class of 1894. "And the Alumnae Secretary tells me," smiled Mrs. Morris, "that she is sure one of them can be found somewhere on the campus!"

Report of the Nominating Committee

The presiding officer called for the concluding report of the morning—that of the Nominating Committee, and this was made by Mary Wilson Wall, chairman. Mrs. Wall read first, in order, the names of those who had been elected members of the Auditing Committee, those who had been elected to the Board of Trustees, the Vice President, and finally the President. The entire group was present and came to the stage to receive the applause of the Assembly.

Dr. Mary Poteat, newly elected president of the Association, captured her electorate with a telling little speech of three-minutes duration. In college days, she reminded us, we used to say, "This is a great surprise. I am much honored. I promise with your help to do my best." She had learned nothing better, she told us, in all the years since.

The usual one o'clock alumnae luncheon had been eliminated this year in favor of the All-Reunion Supper on the Quadrangle, our presiding officer told us, and we were free to get luncheon for ourselves at one of the several places on the campus. Moreover, the seated luncheon, which usually lasted until half past three, had also given place to the Visit to Alumnae House, which would begin at two o'clock. "We want you to see every nook and corner of the House," she continued, "and we want you to see it just as many times as you like. Come early and stay late."

The Visit to Alumnae House

At two o'clock, the crowd began to flow through Alumnae House. There were no formalities of any kind—no set receiving lines, no attempt at introductions. But at the front door, Louise Clinard Wrenn, donor of the portico and entrance, May Lovelace Tomlinson, chairman of the Alumnae House Building Committee, and Clara Byrd, alumnae secretary, stood to smile a welcome to the alumnae and guests as they thronged in. Just within the reception hall, Mrs. Morris, the alumnae president, stood. Invited to be with her were Governor and Mrs. Ehringhaus, Mrs. Charles D. McIver, President and Mrs. Frank P. Graham, Dean and Mrs. W. C. Jackson, Miss Harriet Elliott. Other members of the Alumnae House Building Committee were grouped in the center of the hall—Dr. and Mrs. J. I. Foust, Flossie Harris Spruill, Miss Coit, Annie Moore Cherry, and with them Em Austin.

ALUMNAE HOUSE

On the portico Adelaide Fortune Holderness and Claire Hartsook handed the directories to the guests:

ALUMNAE HOUSE DIRECTORY

First Floor

1. Entrance Hall
2. Reception Hall (large blue-green hall)
3. Balcony

Right Wing

4. Living Room (green room) and Passage
5. Sitting Room
6. Two Bedrooms, each with bath
7. Breakfast Alcove
8. Serving Kitchen and Pantry

Right Wing—Upstairs

9. Two Bedrooms, with connecting bath

Left Wing

10. Library (paneled in knotty white pine)
11. Passage leading to Alumnae Headquarters
12. Left wing (upstairs), unfinished transfer office

Downstairs (from Entrance)

(Note the ladies' and men's cloak rooms and lavatories)

13. Passage on left of stairway leads to—
14. Student Government Association Headquarters
15. Students Publication Room No. 3
16. Addressograph Room
17. Pecky Cypress Room (Alumnae Committee Room and Class Headquarters)
18. Passage on right of stairway leads to—
19. Students Organization Room
20. Students Publication Room No. 1
21. Main Hall
22. Students Publication Room No. 2 (on right)

(Large attic space may be entered from door on the right in front entrance hall.)

In the entrance hall, Ruth Fitzgerald and Corinne Cannady presided over the registration book. The registration book includes the names of members of the Consolidated Board of Trustees, who came from their meeting to visit our House, among them, Governor Ehringhaus, former Governors Cameron Morrison and O. Max Gardner, Ambassador Josephus Daniels, Thurmond Chatham, Richard J. Reynolds.

In every room, members of the Alumnae Board of Trustees, members of the Commencement Committees and presidents of the General Association during the years of the effort to construct the House, were standing. Twenty-five members of the senior class, under the joint chairmanship of Mary Glenn '36 and Kent Blair '36 helped to welcome the great crowds who came, saw and grew enthusiastic. One alumna expressed it thus: "Alumnae House is beyond anything that we had ever dreamed it might be." Another: "Our satisfaction with the House can only be described by the word exultant." Over and over again the grateful ears of the Building Committee heard such comments as this: "It is the loveliest thing we have ever seen!"

Come see it—at your very first opportunity! And then be sure to come after it has been furnished and equipped! And above all, give yourself the joy of having a part in the raising of this final sum, the climbing of this last hill!

The All-Reunion Sunset Supper

One unknowing might have thought a national convention was in progress—if he had seen the Quadrangle on Saturday evening of Alumnae Day, thick with chairs, and class standards in the proverbial blue, green, red, lavender and white—ready for the All-Reunion Supper. To say nothing of the gayly striped marquee—our "head table," placed at the rear of Anna Howard Shaw. Immediately following Class Day, the crowds began to mill, and a colorful scene it was. From Hinsbaw Terrace, a band played spiritedly. Pretty girls were everywhere handing out bountiful eats. We were finding the food good, and getting ready to see the stunts and all the rest of it, when—down came the rain! Not heavily, but enough to send us hurrying indoors. That brought the supper to a quick close, but the dormitories on the Quadrangle swarmed with "adjourned" reunions, which some do say were none the less enjoyable because here the sofas and the chairs were soft!

The commencement play, Dan Totheroh's "Moor Born," played to a capacity house in Aycock, brought Alumnae Day to a satisfying conclusion.

Dr. Gove

I

THE PERSON

By ANNIE McIVER YOUNG 1905

It is a great personal satisfaction to me to resolve a chord I struck before the Alumnae Association ten years ago when I read an appreciation of Miss Mendenhall, head of the Mathematics Department from the establishment of the College until her death. To express my gratitude for Miss Mendenhall, without mentioning Dr. Gove, has left me all these years in a suspended emotional state, for these two women are as inseparably as indelibly imprinted on my mind. They both lived in my home when I was very young. Because of their (and my parents') lives, I knew then and I know even better now that no matter how weak and petty human nature can be, it can also be grandly noble. Because I have lived with human excellence, I cannot fool myself about myself; and if I sense inherent cheapness of aim in others, I am not overawed by front, brains, nor that most ensnaring of all traps, personal magnetism. For a definite standard of judgment, and for fortification against ultimate pessimism, I thank these four. Because of them, mainly, I can today make a public profession of faith in the high possibilities of my fellowmen.

Almost from the beginning of the College, Dr. Gove has worked tirelessly to prevent physical handicaps among us. She has been willing to do the unexciting, laborious, day by day duties of an intelligent mother whose services are taken more or less for granted by a large family. It has made no difference where she was needed, there she was, be it in the president's or in the janitor's home. She is one of the few real and unconscious democrats I have known. She always treats with particular courtesy those persons whom most of us pass by — the old, the lonely, the boring, those who are predestined not to get on. She can always be diverted from her personal plans by another's needs. As I look back on her life, that, I believe, has been her design for living. That design has been wrought with rare beauty. She came to our

DR. ANNA M. GOVE

College when most of our homes lacked a certain grace of living. If she had made no contribution to the community other than her almost Oriental sense of good manners and her always open home of interesting taste, many possessions of which excite one's imagination and widen one's horizon as does the thought of a sailing ship, her life among us should be honored. Without dogmatism, she has demonstrated what a human being can be — self-controlled but not hard; sympathetic but not sentimental; attentive to the person or matter at hand, but not provincial; a sophisticated realist, but neither cruel, sharp, nor bitter; a clear-headed, keen-minded person who can keep quiet while others display wares inferior to her own, for, I believe, she has never gone out for tawdry rewards. Dr. Gove is one of those rare souls who do not have to be on top, even though right, for, I believe, her satisfactions are those inner ones of a truly educated person.

When future daughters speak of Gove Infirmary, I wish they could inherit my memories.

II

THE PHYSICIAN

By MARGARET KERNODLE 1934

Back in the days when Greensboro was only a village, when Woman's College of the University of North Carolina was young, so young that it was still the Normal and Industrial School, and women never became doctors, especially resident doctors at schools for girls, Anna M. Gove bravely determined to be a pioneer.

Saturday, May 30, when the trustees of the University of North Carolina met at the local college for the first time, they recognized the intrinsic value of the fulfillment of the ambition of that petite girl who courageously came south from her native home, Whitefield, N. H. Upon the unanimous recommendation of the faculty advisory committee of the college and the board of trustees of the Alumnae Association, the board of trustees of the university unanimously passed a resolution that will make glad the heart of every girl who has attended Woman's College — a resolution naming the college infirmary "Gove Infirmary."

Few are the women who command such great respect in their professions, such sincere love from their friends and such profound admiration for womanhood as does Dr. Anna M. Gove, who after nearly a half century of service as physician at the local institution, has the same fortitude, modest dignity and quiet charm she had in 1893 when she arrived in Greensboro. The only change is the grace and wisdom of experience.

Primarily a physician, the kind of physician whose diagnosis is accepted by patient and parent, the kind of physician who calmly makes well the mind with the body, the kind of physician who looks upon life as happiness and strives to make the great requisite, health, the privilege of all her patients. Dr. Gove has earned all honor that comes to her. Girls of the state college have not had to be sick to obtain the attention of Dr. Gove. Rather, they have found her eager to be the doctor of health. She of the diminutive stature stands tall with her fellow physicians who were pioneers in trying to stamp out tuberculosis among students. She it was who formulated for the school and put into practice a system of giving to every freshman a thorough physical and medical examination, thereby discovering and correcting in so far as possible minor physical defects during college years. So early in her career did she institute this practice that Woman's College was the third college in the entire United States to adopt the policy.

After receiving education at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Woman's Medical College of the New York Infirmary, from which she was graduated in 1892, Dr. Gove served for a year in the New York Infant Asylum before coming here as a member of the faculty and physician in charge of the students at the opening of the second year.

Always progressive in spirit, Dr. Gove decided she could best serve professionally if she studied in Vienna, which in 1896-97, when she obtained a leave of absence to spend a year there as a post graduate student, was considered the medical center of Europe. So widely recognized was she even then that in 1896 she was official delegate from North Carolina to the International Medical Congress, meeting in Moscow.

Again in 1913-14 she was on leave of absence to spend the winter in Vienna continuing post graduate work in medicine. On one occasion the famous Lorenz, well known for his operations in congenital dislocation of the hip, was in a clinic to perform a surgical operation, and Dr. Gove administered the anaesthetic to his patient. Two days after she bought of her routine trips to an outlying clinic she and her party were welcomed to their surprise by the town mayor and presented bouquets of flowers prior to the clinic. But the

GOVE INFIRMARY

Erected in 1910. Named in honor of Dr. Anna M. Gove, by action of the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina at its meeting held in Greensboro on May 30, 1936.

tickets to carry out her plans of touring England in 1914 before coming home, war was declared and all trains requisitioned for troops.

In 1917 while on leave of absence from the college to study in the Post Graduate Hospital of New York City, she signed up for Red Cross work and sailed to France in March, 1918. In France she worked in cooperation with the children's bureau under Dr. Mason Knox. In Marseilles and Aubens she did regular dispensary work in addition to inspecting babies in the well-baby clinic. The French refugees under Madam Dryfus-Barner had her care. She was sent to the Convent St. Regis to open a clinic where the Sisters had taken in refugees. No other physician was anywhere in the neighboring country.

Well does Dr. Gove remember the first time she ever saw mistletoe with colored berries. On one greater surprise and the reason she so definitely remembers the occasion was the event of returning from the clinic. Armistice had been signed! In addition to her other work she is recognized especially for her aid in planning a public health service for the community, a service still existing.

To America and the local college she returned in 1919, continuing her successful administration as college physician. Going to China, Japan, Korea, French-Indo China and India she was on leave of absence in 1926-27. She studied at the University of Michigan, in the summer sessions of 1924 and 1928, and has also studied at Cornell University and at a private clinic in Chicago.

Her professional honors and affiliations include life membership in the American Medical Association, of Vienna, honorable fellow of the North Carolina State Medi-

THE BUILDING FUND

Office of the Treasurer

WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Greensboro, N. C., May 23, 1936

(All receipts set forth have been deposited with the State Treasurer, Charles M. Johnson)

Receipts:

From Clara B. Byrd, Sec. Treas.
Cash .....	$ 22,000.00
Cash from sale of City of Greensboro Bonds .....	46,000.00	$68,000.00
From other sources:
State of North Carolina (Property purchased from Alumnae Assoc.) (Allotment) .....	30,000.00
Payments on PWA Grant of $39,600.00 .....	28,854.43	58,854.43
Total Receipts to date .....			$126,854.43

Disbursements:

Charles W. Angle, Inc. (General and Electric) .....	$102,083.70
Crutchfield-Sullivan (Heating) .....	5,077.75
Crutchfield-Sullivan (Plumbing) .....	4,499.20
PWA Clerk .....	1,683.00
Architect's Fees .....	3,873.87		117,217.52
Balance in hands of State Treasurer May 23, 1936 .....			$ 9,636.91

Amounts due on Contracts Outstanding:

Charles W. Angle, Inc. (General and Electric) .....	5,283.90
Crutchfield-Sullivan (Heating) .....	267.25
Crutchfield-Sullivan (Plumbing) .....	425.80
PWA Clerk .....	.00
Architect's Fees .....	273.10
J. Frank Jones (paper) .....	172.20
Elizabeth Thompson (paper) .....	53.00
Approximate additions to contracts .....	1,000.00		7,475.25
Balance in hand (not allocated) .....			$ 2,161.66
Amount yet due from PWA Grant .....			10,745.57
Available Balance to date, May 23, 1936 .....			$ 12,907.23

This is to certify that the above statement is correct.

(Signed) E. J. Forney, Treasurer.

Report of Alumnae House Building Committee

Madam President and Fellow Alumnae: Our report this year consists of pointing with pride to the Alumnae House. The building itself is virtually finished. We have done our best and are frank to say we hope the result of our efforts meets with your approval. Naturally, we who have thought, dreamed and worked with the actual planning and construction of Alumnae House for the past five years, love every detail of its design and workmanship; but we are gratified, too, to know that visitors from far and near, including representatives from other colleges and universities, recognize its beauty and charm. Now you are here to see and hear what your committee has been doing. I gave you last year the story of the struggle. This year has been a repetition, but we feel that success has at last crowned our efforts.

I cannot go further without first paying tribute to whom tribute is due. The whole committee has given unstintingly of its time and thought. But upon Dr. Julius I. Foust, our representative in the construction of the House, and upon Miss Clara Byrd, our faithful and efficient Alumnae Secretary, has fallen most of the burden.

Dr. Foust has done for us many things that we could not do ourselves. His interest and help at every step and turn of the way has made our House possible. I want the Alumnae to realize that it has not been his interest in the House alone which has motivated his hard work and ceaseless planning, but no less his devotion to the alumnae of this College and his abiding interest in them and their future. He has helped us to accomplish something which through all the future years will make our alumnae an integral part of our College, and at the same time make the campus a happier and more beautiful place for faculty and students. He has traveled hundreds of miles, written hundreds of letters, worked with the men on the job, the PWA, the architect, the contractors, the decorator, and the committee, straightening out difficulties and keeping things moving with a determination that never weakened. Not a small part of his contribution has been his aid in the long struggle to raise the necessary funds.

(Alumnae, remember our House is paid for to date. No debt hangs over it.)

As for the part Miss Byrd has played in bringing about the completion of the Alumnae House, she alone can give you the whole story, and she is too modest ever to tell. I do know, though, that for more than twelve years it has been her all-absorbing interest, and into it she has poured her whole heart, soul and energy. She has traveled all over North Carolina, helping to raise the money. She took care of this money through all those trying, discouraging years. She it was who first suggested that Homewood would be a beautiful model for our House; that its general contour would fit the plot of ground which had been set aside for its location. Then, as you will recall from last year's story, followed the visit to Baltimore and a thorough investigation of Homewood, resulting in our approval of the idea. Realizing more than any member of the committee the specific needs of the building, she gave invaluable assistance to the architect in planning and designing the House. She has kept the minutes of our many meetings and conferences and done much of the correspondence, in addition to her other duties as Alumnae Secretary. It is a joy to all of us—alumnae, faculty, and students that Alumnae House stands a reality in brick and mortar rather than a roll of blue prints as it was last year; but to Clara Byrd it is the child of her heart—her dream come true.

Again, I say that we owe to Dr. Foust and to Miss Byrd a real debt of gratitude.

The furnishings and equipment have been planned under the direction of Mr. J. Frank Jones of Richmond, one of the most outstanding decorators in the South, in close association with the committee. The committee feels that we have been most fortunate in securing Mr. Jones because of his experience with colonial architecture and furnishings. Among other things he assisted in the restoration at Williamsburg and has two or three times redecorated the Governor's mansion in Richmond.

Continued on page 12

Comment and Review

As was reported at Commencement, an additional sum of $12,000.00 is needed properly to equip and furnish Alumnae House. At the meeting of the Alumnae Board of Trustees, held on Saturday morning, May 30, in the Reception Hall of Alumnae House, the Board considered very definitely the best way to raise this additional sum. The Board was a unit in its determination to press forward and climb this last hill. To place cheap furniture in this beautiful building was unthinkable. Among other things, it was decided to write all those who had made a subscription to the Fund in 1924, but who had not paid the full amount, explaining the need for additional funds, and giving them an opportunity to pay now part or all of their delayed subscription. It was also decided to ask the county units to assist by accepting quotas to be raised within the next few months. In accordance with these decisions, letters have been sent to the county leaders, setting forth the situation and asking their aid.

The following letter, accompanied by a statement, has also been mailed:

To Alumnae and Others Who Subscribed to the Alumnae Building Fund:

At last our Alumnae House — which we dreamed about, talked about, and worked for these many years — is a reality. Those of you who were here at commencement, when it was informally opened for all to visit, know for yourselves the enthusiasm which was expressed on all sides for its beauty and adaptability. Representatives from leading colleges for women in other parts of the country, coming to see the House, have gone away with similar enthusiasm. One of these colleges has asked permission to feature our House, in picture and story, in the next number of their alumnae magazine.

An old Chinese proverb says, "One look is better than a thousand words"; and we extend to you now an urgent invitation to come take this "look" for yourself at the very first opportunity.

But may we add at least a few words now. Alumnae House was modeled after "Homewood," built about 1800 by Charles Carroll of Carrollton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, as a wedding gift for his only son. It is considered by many critics as perhaps the most perfect example of colonial architecture in the country. Will you pardon us if we think our House even more perfect than the original?

The next step is to furnish and equip the House in keeping with the beauty of its architecture, and in a manner worthy of the alumnae and of the College, so that it may be ready for service.

The House itself will cost approximately $125,000.00. We have the funds already in hand to cover this entire cost, with a remainder of about $12,000.00 left over to apply on furnishings and equipment. The Committee has already received and opened bids for the furnishings and equipment — planned and directed by one of the ablest decorators in the South — and we find that an additional sum of $12,000.00 will be needed for that purpose.

The Alumnae Board of Trustees, at its commencement meeting, requested the Building Committee to notify all of you who had several years ago promised to aid in the construction of the House, of the need for these additional funds, and to give you an opportunity to assist now. In conformity with their request, as well as in response to requests made by a number of the alumnae in general, we are enclosing a statement of your account as it appears on the records.

If it is possible for you to send a check now for the balance shown unpaid, it will be gratefully received and credited to your name. If you cannot send the entire amount indicated, will you not send as much as you possibly can? But let us have it now; or write us what you can do within the next ninety days. At any rate, will you not let us hear from you, since we should like — and we know that you feel the same way about it — to wind up the matter in a business-like way.

All of you are familiar with Dr. Foust's long connection with the efforts of the Alumnae Association to build this House. You have probably heard also of the aid which the PWA has given. Under PWA regulations, Dr. Foust has been the business representative of the Committee in the construction of the building. The contracts for furnishings and equipment are now in his hands waiting to be signed. Moreover, the furniture market is rising, so that unless the contracts are signed shortly, the cost of furnishings and equipment may be considerably increased.

Because of general economic conditions we could not for several years see how to go forward with the building, and in that situation the Committee did not call upon you for payments. But now that the whole project is so nearly finished, we feel sure you will wish to reopen the matter, and to have as large a part as possible in this really great achievement of the alumnae of this College.

Please spread the news among other alumnae. Tell them that any amount, however small, will be greatly appreciated. "Something from everybody now — gladly."

Looking forward to hearing from you, and expressing our thanks now for any assistance you may give, we are Cordially yours,

THE ALUMNAE HOUSE BUILDING COMMITTEE

May Lovelace Tomlinson (Mrs. C. F.)

Annie M. Cherry

Flossie Harris Spruill (Mrs. J. E.)

Octavia Jordan Perry (Mrs. C. W.)

Julius I. Foust

Laura H. Coit

Mary Potcat, President of the Alumnae Association

Clara B. Byrd, Alumnae Secretary

Will every alumna who reads this lay hold of the problem and do something to help complete this Fund. Give all you can yourselves, and then ask somebody else to do likewise. This last hill can be climbed — easily — with your help.

Meeting of the Consolidated Board of Trustees

For the first time, the Consolidated Board of Trustees met at the Woman's College on Saturday, Alumnae Day, for an all-day session, which was held in the Administration Building. Discussion centered largely on whether to reconsider the decision made by the Board on June 11, 1935, to discontinue the engineering school at Chapel Hill and concentrate engineering instruction at State College, Raleigh. The Board voted fifty to twenty-four against reconsideration — which means that the decision made a year ago still stands.

Reunions

CLASS OF 1899

The Class of '99 held its reunion luncheon in a private dining room of the Home Economics Building, at twelve-thirty on Alumnae Day. Of a class of thirty-nine, thirty-five are now living. Of this number, nine were present: Rosalind Sheppard Willis, class president; Lewis Dull, Jessie Whitaker Ricks, all of Winston-Salem; Bessie Moody, Milton, Florida; Carey Ogburn Jones, High Point; Lucy Coffin Ragsdale, Jamestown; Lottie Eagle, Jennie Eagle, Norfolk, Virginia; and Mary Collins, Enfield. Much to our regret, Sudie Middleton Thorpe, Rocky Mount, joint hostess with Mary Collins, was kept at home by illness.

The luncheon table was centered by a bowl of red carnations and fern, and places were marked by beautiful hand painted cards representing large red carnations.

Mrs. Willis extended cordial greetings to her classmates, after which each one present told of what she was doing. The class was delighted to hear not only of the children, but of the grandchildren, who are sources of joy and pride to these gray heads of '99. Letters were read from a number who were unable to be present: Frances Suttle, Asheville, kept at home by illness; Bettie Wright, New Bern; Eugenia Jamison, Mooresville; Fannie McClees, Wilmington; Marina Whitley, Williamston; Penelope Davis, Raleigh; Anna Parker Lumsford, Benson; Mattie Moore Taylor, Florence, South Carolina; and Emma Parker Maddrey, Richmond. Emma's letter was written in New York harbor, as she steamed away on the S. S. American Legion, for a five month's trip to South America with her husband, Rev. Charles E. Maddrey, Secretary of Foreign Missions for the Southern Baptist Convention.

Refreshed, rejuvenated, re-inspired by contacts with old friends and teachers, by catching once again the spirit of their college, these members of '99 planned to meet again at the call of the Alumnae Secretary, when Jessie Whitaker Ricks and Rosalind Sheppard Willis will be hostesses.

Mary B. Collins, Secretary.

CLASS OF 1900

Ours was a happy breakfast occasion, on Sunday morning, May 31, in a private dining room of the O. Henry Hotel, Greensboro. Ten of us sat down together at a big round table, centered with summer flowers, and otherwise beautifully appointed. At each plate lay a hand decorated place card, with an original verse applicable to the person whose name it bore — the work of Miriam McFadyen, local chairman on arrangements. The following answered present: Mittie P. Lewis Barrier, our everlasting president, who presided; Auvila Lindsay Lowe, Emma L. Speight Morris, Eleanor Watson Andrews, Miriam McFadyen, Mary McDowell, Emma Bernard Kaminer. And in addition, we had as guests, Dr. Gove, Miss Petty, and Clara Byrd, our Alumnae Secretary. Conversation flew thick and fast. Who? When? How? Where? Don't you remember? There was reminiscence upon reminiscence. Mrs. Barrier passed around the commencement number of the State Normal Magazine, published by our class when seniors; also her class pin, destined one day to be a treasured heirloom. The class was proud to recognize too, that the retiring alumnae president, Mrs. Claude Morris, was among our number. Dr. Gove related humorous incidents of her years at the college. Mrs. Lowe suggested a plan for creating a class loan fund. Mrs. Kaminer, en route to Washington City to attend the Triennial Meeting of the Farm Women of the World, greatly interested us with her story of the work she is doing with farm women in her home county in South Carolina. While still in the thick of things, we were obliged to adjourn to hear the baccalaureate sermon on the campus, after having accepted an invitation for dinner with Dr. Gove at her home that evening.

Auvila Lindsay Lowe,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1916

After twenty years, sixteen members of the class of 1916 met together at the college for reunion at commencement. We were perfectly certain that of all the classes that came back ours was the best looking, the best dressed, had the handsomest husbands, the brightest children, the most enviable jobs! Such is the stuff of optimism! Mary Foust Dormitory was headquarters, and there we had rooms together. Our special feature was a luncheon in Spencer dining room at half past twelve on Saturday. After the luncheon, we gathered in Mary Foust for a class meeting. Jay McIver Hester brought a copy of the May 1916 number of the State Normal Magazine, and read to our delighted ears the destiny she had prophesied for each — a fate that would come to pass in 1936 — then the end of time! The class prophecy was the basis for our program, and it proved sufficient to the need! We talked, sang songs, reminisced, and time itself fell away unheeded. At the All-Reunion Supper that evening, the terrace of Hinshaw was headquarters; and here we again reunited — until the rain drove us undaunted within, still to reunite. Those present: Annie Spainhour Walker, everlasting president, Ruth Tate Anderson, Claire Henley Atkisson, Caroline Robinson Dellinger, Anna Doggett, Sydney Dowty Faucette, Jay McIver Hester, Sarah Gwyn, Janie Ipoeh, Sadie McBrayer McCain, Rosa Blakeney Parker, Pauline Williams Koonce, Jeanette Cox St. Amand, Addie Klntz Stutts, Frances Summerell, and

Annie Beam Funderburk,
Everlasting Secretary.

CLASS OF 1917

The 1917's back were: Juanita McDougald, Helen Oliver, Frankie Howard Cox, Annie Simpson Pierson Stratford, Ruth Kernodle McDonald, Flossie Harris Spruill, Annie Daniel Boyd, and Sidney Dowty Faucette.

We appointed the following 20 Years-Out-Reunion Committee to plan for the reunion in 1937: Juanita McDougald, chairman, because she gets around the state so much; Flossie Harris Spruill, Annie Daniel Boyd, and Ruth Kernodle McDonald, secretary to the committee because she has a typewriter and is the very girl for the place! We instructed Juanita to put in first bid for a meeting in the new Alumnae House at next commencement. We decided to have a program then at which interesting and unusual jobs and accomplishments of our class would be paraded before the rest of us.

A report of the Baby Committee — R. Kernodle, chairman, appointed in the days before we realized babies got big and out-of-hand, will also be a feature. Will everybody with offspring get in touch with the chairman.

We decided that all of us present looked just like we did in 1917 and wondered if Father Time had been as kind to the rest of you stay-at-homes.

Ruth Kernodle.

(Mrs. R. L. McDonald, 2nd Avenue and E., Silver Springs, Md.)

CLASS OF 1918

Those of us who came back put on our glad clothes, went to everything, saw everybody, and enjoyed Commencement in a big way. Those present were: Nell Bishop Owen, Daisy Boyd, Martha Blakeney Hodges, Leone Blanchard Stockard, Belle Bullock Ivie, Carrie Cranford, Susan Green Finch, Kate Hunt Kirkman, Marie Lineberger Richardson, Margaret Matthews Raiford, Victoria Mial, Nancy Porter Kirby, Leta Tripp Liverman, Sue Ramsey J. Ferguson. We very much enjoyed letters from the following: Elsie Anderson Saunders, Pauline Benton, Ellen Boney Miller, Cornelia Brady, Kate Brooks, Esther Clapp Jones, Inabelle Coleman, Eliza Collins, Bertie Craig Smith, Ethel Craig, Vivian Draper Farmer, Mildred Ellis, Annie Belle Harrington McNeill, Winnie Leach Duncan, Dorothy Phelps Bultman, Addie Whitehurst.

CLASS OF 1925

The "returns" from our class gathered for luncheon in the Home Economics Building at 12:30 on Alumnae Day. This time we could not talk about ourselves, or our nice husbands or our precocious children, for thinking about Alumnae House — we were simply thrilled over its beauty and arrangement, and unanimous in our enthusiasm for it. Josephine Clark, the "traveling" member of the class, did manage somehow to slip in a little news about absent members whom she meets constantly in her goings about the state. And we did get excited over hearing that Lorna Thigpen David is planning to spend next year in Europe with her husband, studying. The subject of World Peace also came up, and remembering our growing boys, as well as other people's boys, we expressed determination to do our part to secure it. Lucy Tate Jones and Ruth Mason were two of the longest absent members back for this reunion. Katherine Buie and Mozelle (Jackson) Underwood, the faithfuls, were right here. Nan Earle Green, another ever faithful, was absent this time, recuperating from an operation. Mary Bailey Farrington has since announced the birth of a son. Velma Matthew's commencement at Coker College coincided with ours, and so did that of Maxine Taylor, at Henderson. We gathered around our class standard on the Quadrangle for supper that evening, with all the other classes, and though the rain sent us scurrying for shelter before we were through, we went right on re-unioning and enjoyed ourselves with all the exuberance of folks let out from school. Among those present in addition to the ones mentioned: Mary Harper Cobb McGougan, Edwina Deans, Harriet McDonald, Ruth McLawhorn Witherington, Grace Grogan, Estelle Mendenhall LeGwin, President.

CLASS OF 1926

Our class had luncheon together in the cafeteria of the Home Economics Building, at 12:30 on Alumnae Day. The luncheon was followed by a class meeting in the lovely reading room of the college library. We called the class roll, name by name, and wished for the absent members, so many of whom were far away.

New officers were elected to serve until the next reunion: President, Eleanor (Vauneman) Benson, Greensboro; Vice President, Johnnie Henry Cobb, Graham; Secretary, Mary Polk Gordon, Greensboro; Treasurer, Addie Wilson, Asheville.

Among those present: Sarah Gullely Roper, Pearl Teiser Kahn, Winifred Mode Reid, Mary Polk Gordon, Eleanor Vanneaman Benson, Johnsie Henry Cobb, Hermene Warlick Eichhorn, Corinne Canady, Addie Wilson, Emily Cate, Eudora Younginer Spencer, Elsie Brame Hunt, Carrie McLean Taylor, Mary Ida McLawhorn, Lidie Pierce Horton, Maude Query, Ellen Stone Scott, and Katherine Price Tiedeman.

Mary Polk Gordon,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1929

We met for luncheon at one o'clock on Saturday of Alumnae Day, on the Roof Garden of the Jefferson Standard. After singing the college song, Virginia Kirkpatrick, everlasting president, made us welcome. Era Linker Funderburk, everlasting secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Sara Katherine Hampton gave the treasurer's report. During the business session, the class voted to solicit each member for a donation to apply on the furnishings and equipment for Alumnae House, the beauty of which charmed, and almost amazed us. We also voted to collect fifty cents from the members present for our class reunions. We swapped all the news we had about all the absent ones, and listened with keen interest to the personal reports of those who answered to the roll call:

Rachel Aycock has been Mrs. C. H. White since 1931. Previous to that time she taught in the junior high school, Iligh Point, where she lives. She has two children—a boy 3, and a wee daughter of three months.

Thelma Brady is Mrs. Carey Nicholson, of Ellerbe.

Hilda Burton, now Mrs. R. R. Fountain, also lives in High Point. She married the summer after graduation and has two sons. Hilda says she has lived on the Atlantic Seaboard, all the way from New Jersey to Florida.

Jean Divine—now Mrs. E. Gilbert Tillitt, Wilmington, almost celebrated her second wedding anniversary—she was married in June, 1934. She still teaches English in the high school.

Elizabeth Draughon taught English and Latin in the Burgaw high school last year. She received her M. A. degree in Religious Education from the Baptist W. M. U. Training School, Louisville, in 1932.

Mary Draughon has been Mrs. B. C. Pridgen since 1933. She teaches a sixth grade at Dunn, her home, and is building principal of the grammar school there.

Virginia Fields has a delightful job—teaching public school music in the Proximity School, Greensboro.

Ona Helms, now Mrs. Gaines Garland, has a little boy, twenty months old. We all agree with her that he is better than teaching school!

Glady's Goodman is Mrs. John McInnis, Concord. She has been teaching the sixth grade there.

Elizabeth Hall is a business woman—doing actuarial work for the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro.

Sara Katherine Hampton teaches in the Leaksville township public schools.

Virginia Jackson is associated with the American Red Cross, Greensboro, doing secretarial work.

Virginia Kirkpatrick teaches literature in the George Watts School, Durham.

Rosa Jones, now Mrs. T. F. Little, has two children, Barbara Ann, and Thomas Fletcher, Jr. The family lives in Charlotte.

Minnie Kellam received her A.B. in Library Science at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, in 1935. She is librarian at Granville School, Winston-Salem.

Frances Patrick teaches at Bethel.

Era Linker Funderburk continues to teach in the schools of Concord. This summer she is traveling for the National Red Cross, and is giving a series of Junior Red Cross lectures in the colleges of North Carolina and Virginia.

July 2, 3, and 4 she was at Woman's College.

Luna Daile Bradford was married last spring to A. Scott Parker, Jr., and lives in High Point, where she is teaching in the junior high school.

Pearla B. Parker, now Mrs. R. F. Boggs, lives in Greenville, S. C., where she is a member of the city school faculty.

Era Linker Funderburk,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1931

We met here and there and all along during the commencement season, hearing news from and about one another, and enjoying all the commencement happenings. Among those who came were: Penelope Lewis, Mary Frances Misenheimer, Willie Pritchard, Maude Rhyne, Anne Tucker, Madge Cline Young, Elizabeth McLaughlin, Mary Fowle Perry, Annie Ruth German, Odessa Hunter Rayhill, Frances White, student counselor and instructor in sociology at Woman's College, Edith Vail, instructor in physical education at Woman's College, Louise Whittington, Lola Proffitt, Mazel Bowles, Ethel Leonard, Jewel McBane.

Among those we heard from were: Rosalie Avery, now teaching in the Margaret Lebeau School, a small boarding school, in Gainesville, Florida; Cora Lee Cox, who was preparing for her approaching marriage; Lily Dolvin, who was also married shortly afterwards; Mary Louise Hanby, who visited the college early in May; Hazel Harris Maynard, who lives in Burlington—she has a little daughter two years old; Martha Hood Norton, who lives in Beaver, West Virginia; Sallie Mooring, now in Morristown, New Jersey; Inez Murray, also among the summer brides-to-be; Mary Welsh Parker, since graduation an assistant in the Chemistry Department at Woman's College—studying this summer at Chapel Hill; Frances Pully, attending summer session at Woman's College; Kate Robinson Farr, who has recently moved into a new white brick bungalow in Sunset Hills; Manie Robinson Rodeffer, doing welfare work in Anson County; Pearl Sykes, who was married in Asheboro on the morning of Alumnae Day to Julian Stone of Canton; Edith Abbott Clarke, who has studied art at Woman's College, and whose self-portrait, which she drew while sitting before a mirror, has attracted quite a lot of attention; Ermine Neal, who is attending summer session here.

The rain scattered our group at the All-Reunion Supper on the Quadrangle, but that did not keep us from "reuning" impromptu inside.

Sara Henry,

Chairman of the Committee.

CLASS OF 1934

Our class had no formal reunion, since this was not our regular year, but those of us who came were above all things impressed with the beauty of the Alumnae House, and thrilled with pride over it from the time we came until we left. We especially approved also of the plan for the All-Reunion Supper on the Quadrangle. Among those who registered were: Thelma Bennett Bashaw, Margaret Judith Brown, Mary Elizabeth Clapp, Anne Coogan, Asenath Cooke, Nedje Patterson Cotton, Inez Pitts, Margaret Plonk, Hallie Sykes, Mabel Work, and Margaret Young Wall.

Margaret Plonk,
Vice President.

CLASS OF 1935

Some forty members of the class were back for commencement this year. Our special reunion was a luncheon in the Y Hut on Saturday of Alumnae Day. Red and white decorations were everywhere — red and white roses, red candles on white linen — placed under the supervision of Emma White Carlton. And all the girls wore red crepe hair ribbons. Frances Grantham received at the door. Before, during, and after luncheon our program consisted of "all talk!" And how we enjoyed hearing from and about everybody. Plans were also made for our stunt at the All-Reunion Supper on the Quadrangle. Among those here were: Linna Bost, Lucille Boyd, Hazel Brooks, Louise Browne, Mary Elizabeth Burns, Dot Burger, Katherine Cagle, Paulanna Cooper, Jane Costner, Alberta Craft, Katherine Crew, Brockie Daniels, Helen Dugan, who came from Chicago for the week-end, Droop Ellis, Frances Grantham, Rilda Mae Hill, Lorraine Gray, Frances Jones, Susanne Ketchum, Josephine Kiker, Martha Lockhart, Willa Marks, Hazel May, Anne Minton, Kathryn E. Miller, Margaret C. Moore, Margaret Phillips, Doris Poole, Nell Poole, Mabel Satterfield, Ellen G. Sherwood, Alene Starnes, Mary Swett, Alice Thomas, Mary Tyler, Emma White Carlton, Kate Wilkins, Anna Wills, and Zora Yarbrough.

Barbara Graves,
Vice President.

of University Women, the American Legion, the National Association for Mental Hygiene, American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Social Hygiene Association, the American Society for the Control of Cancer, vice president of the American Student Health Association 1934 and 1935, and chairman of Round Table No. 3 at the National Conference on College Hygiene which is to be held in Washington, D. C., this year.

(Note: Reprinted from the Greensboro Daily News, June 7, 1936.)

Report of Alumnae House Building Committee

Continued from page 7

We feel that you will be as thoroughly pleased with the plans for the furnishings as we trust you are with the House itself.

The furnishings and equipment come within the PWA grant and jurisdiction also, but we are happy to say that the PWA, represented by Dr. Baity, has given us wonderful cooperation. In fact, they tell us that our Alumnae House is their theme song! But, of course, our connection with PWA has necessarily slowed up the rapidity with which the work could progress.

Now, we want every one of you to see every nook and crevice of your House. Don't hurry through. We don't want you to miss a thing—from the Georgia marble steps, the pineapple over the reception hall door, to the flagstone terrace at the back.

May Lovelace Tomlinson,
Chairman of Alumnae House Building Committee.

Dr. Gove

Continued from page 6

cal Society, member of the Guilford County Medical Society, memberships in the American Medical Association, the American Public Health Association, the Medical Women's National Association, the American Association

'Y' HUT

Keeping Up With the Alumnae

New Jersey Unit of the New York Federation

Meeting one. The time was Tuesday, May 26, at six in the evening. The place was Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, New Jersey. The occasion was an alumnae dinner in the Japanese private dining room. Grace Forney Mackie issued the call. The object was to enjoy a good dinner together, see old friends, meet new ones, and incidentally conduct an auction sale which we said might consist of anything—"from a cute kitchen towel to a grand piano!" The Alumnae House was the beneficiary. We did have a good dinner, and after that, each one present was asked to tell about her own activities, so that we felt well-introduced. And then we raffled off the interesting objects, and as a result sent a neat check to help furnish and equip Alumnae House. On October 4, Miss Leah Boddie, dean of women at New Jersey College for Women, and Mrs. Eunnie Sinclair Harrison, will be hostesses to our group at New Jersey College for Women. This will be the second meeting since our organization. We missed the presence of Mrs. Sudie Israel Wolfe, member of the class of 1894, who sent her contribution.

Grace Forney Mackie, Chairman.

Willie Pritchard is an outstanding leader among the young people of the Methodist Church in Northampton County. She is rated an excellent speaker.

Elizabeth (Harrison) Duckett, for a while back home at Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania, still speaks with wistful reminiscence of her travels in the oriental countries when her husband, Lieutenant Commander Duckett, was stationed in Eastern waters. "Some day I shall send you some notes from my Manila letters—written while there, just as things came to me. Manila is such a quaint, romantic city, with its widely divergent types of Chinese, Japanese, the quiet, gentle native Filipino, the gay effervescent Spaniard—all so interesting, so hospitable. I have always felt that Katherine Mayo's "Isles of Fear" is an unfair estimate of the people of the Islands. But how could she visit the Island for just two weeks and then write with any degree of authority? And that was the length of her visit, you know. We lived with five of the natives right in our house as servants. I asked them anything I wished to know about the whats and whys of their lives and customs. I have been in the homes of the rich politicians, and the lovely cochero, and the poor and afflicted, and I have failed to find any substantiation for some of the things Katherine Mayo states so confidently."

June (Kernodle) Henderson was last year president of the Wednesday Study Club, Graham. Lorena (Kernodle) Stratford '16, Minnie (Long) Ward '17, and Marea (Jordan) Yount '11 have all contributed papers to the program this year. June's daughter, Cora Emmaline, graduated from the University at Chapel Hill this month.

Mrs. Eulalie (Elliott) Reid, student at the college during the very first year, came back to Commencement this June, the first time she had been on the campus in forty-three years. She says it was a great treat to see old friends and teachers and meet new ones, as well as note the many changes which have taken place during the years. We here at college say it was a great treat to have her come.

Sophia (Hart) Wakely, who lives in South Orange, New Jersey, has two sons

—William, Jr. and Frank who were students at Chapel Hill last year.

Annie (Clapp) Burnette, an officer in the Gate City Building and Loan Association, is serving for the second year as president of the Greensboro Business and Professional Women's Club.

The name of Dr. Mary Stuart McDougall, professor of biology at Agnes Scott College, is listed among the fourteen North Carolinians who have held Guggenheim fellowships during the past ten years, according to a list just recently published by the Guggenheim foundation.

CLASS OF 1894

Sudie (Israel) Wolfe sent her best wishes for a "grand and glorious" gathering at Commencement. She spoke of the death of her roommate, Annie Lee (Rose) Parker, during the year. Of the original eight members in the class, only five are now left.

CLASS OF 1895

Nettie (Allen) Deans went to Washington the last of May to attend the Triennial Congress of Farm Women of the World. She promises to give us some of the high lights of her trip.

Dr. Barnette Miller was initiated during April into Phi Beta Kappa at Woman's College. She came down from Wellesley College, where she is a member of the faculty, to spend the day of the initiation ceremonies on the campus.

CLASS OF 1896

Cornelia (Deaton) Hamilton was right here for Commencement this year. Her two youngest daughters sailed on the Queen Mary on June 5, so that gave Cornelia a chance to slip away while they week-ended with friends elsewhere. Mrs. Deaton is very active in all good endeavors. Among her other interests, she is president of the Concord Presbyterian Auxiliary.

Blanche (Harper) Moseley's youngest daughter, Claudia, was a freshman at college this past year.

CLASS OF 1898

Clee Winstead rested from the school room this past year, after thirty-six years of service. With the exception of the year '98-'99, she taught in the Wilson schools. Last year she kept house and farmed. It was a great pleasure to have her present at Commencement in June. One of the splendid schools in Wilson County has been named for her, and Carrie (Sparger) Coon '02 is now serving as principal there.

CLASS OF 1902

Virginia (Brown) Douglas talked about "Wild Flowers of North Carolina" at an April meeting of the Greensboro Woman's Club. Mrs. Douglas lives in a charming and charmed spot a few miles from Greensboro, a sort of "shady glen," such as English novelists used to talk about. Go there if you get half an invitation.

Virginia Leggett wrote from the Avalon Hotel, St. Petersburg, Florida, of which she and her sister are owner-managers. It is open for guests during the winter season. They also have a summer Avalon at Virginia Beach, operated by them during the summer. Both are charming places to spend a vacation.

CLASS OF 1903

Nettie Parker Wirth and her attractive daughter, Antoinette, and son, Albert, were among our commencement guests. Nettie completed her course in Social Service at the Assembly Training School, Richmond, early last spring, and is now connected with one of the large churches in Richmond as social service worker.

CLASS OF 1905

Ruth Fitzgerald is one of the State founders of Delta Kappa Gamma Honor Society—a national organization, in which election to membership is based upon recognized success in teaching, leadership, unselfish professional spirit, cooperative nature, and high personal character. Two chapters have been organized, the Alpha chapter in Greensboro, and the Beta chapter in Raleigh.

Emma (Sharpe) Avery's oldest son, Willoughby Moulton, was married last April. He and his bride live in Washington, where the young man is connected with the Tidewater Power Company.

CLASS OF 1910

Margaret (John) Holland's daughter, Bobby, a freshman at Woman's College last year, was chairman of the freshman prom held in Rosenthal gymnasium the latter part of April.

Marion (Stevens) Hood, Raleigh, a new member of our Alumnae Board of Trustees, went with her husband on a cruise to Bermuda shortly after Commencement. She wrote: "We are having a wonderful time—perfect weather, perfect everything, but sea sick enough to give us a well-balanced trip!"

Laura (Weill) Cone's daughter, Frances Stern, was graduated from Vassar College this June. Laura went up for the commencement exercises.

CLASS OF 1911

Among those who reuned together at commencement this year were: Allie Parsons Winstead, Olivia Burbage Campbell, Bessie Bennett Barnes, Mae Brown Terry, Bertha Daniel Cloyd, Gertrude Glenn, Myrtle Johnston Hassell, Adelaide Morrow, Margaret Pickett Hamlin.

Rose (Batterham) Housekeeper visited Laura (Weill) Cone '10 in Greensboro the latter part of May, and of course came out to the College to see it again, to the great pleasure of her friends on the campus. Those of us who so thoroughly enjoyed her novel, Pleasure Piece, are eagerly awaiting the appearance of another novel which Rose told us has already been completed. She lives in South Orange, New Jersey.

CLASS OF 1912

Leah Boddie sailed from New York on July 1, on the S. S. Washington, bound for Plymouth. After landing, she will spend a week or so in London, and then go on for several weeks to the Scandinavian countries, particularly Norway and Sweden, returning to London for a motor trip through England and Scotland. She expects to be away for about two months, and will resume her work early next fall as dean of women at New Jersey College for Women, the woman's college co-ordinate with Rutgers University.

Nettie (Fleming) Smith has three splendid children—Nancy, next year a senior in the Wilmington High School; Jean a junior, and Lansing, in the sixth grade. They have a summer cottage on Wrightsville Sound. All of them think there is no place like it. In the spring masses of wild violets bloom on the water front and all along the road ways, and a wealth of yellow jasmine festoons the trees—both very lovely. Nettie has rather recently resumed teaching, and is a member of the faculty of the New Hanover High School, in the department of English.

CLASS OF 1914

Lallah (Daughety) Andrews moved from Raleigh to Newport News, Virginia, about a year ago. We are looking forward to having her daughter Jeanne as a freshman at Woman's College next year.

Ruth (Hampton) Shuping was rather seriously injured in an unusual accident early in May. An addition is being built to her home on Lake Drive, Greensboro. On the evening of the accident, she and one of her sons walked out into the new structure, and Ruth sat down on a board in a window opening, thinking the board was nailed down. But it was loose and was dislodged. She fell head first to the ground, some twelve feet below the window opening. Vertebrae in her neck were fractured from the impact. She was taken to the hospital and placed in a cast, and is showing continuous improvement. Her college classmates and friends are much interested in her steady recovery.

Iris (Holt) McEwen's husband is a hosiery manufacturer in Burlington. He was recently elected a member of the Board of Trustees of the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers, during the annual convention of that body held in Philadelphia.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Rochelle (Pippin) Strowd is living now in Louisburg, where her husband has been a member of the school for the past two years.

Agnes (Warren) Stephens has a son, now fourteen and a half years old. She says he is taller than she is. We hear he always leads his class at school.

CLASS OF 1915

Hallie Beavers writes from Cristobel, Canal Zone, where she is teaching in a native school. She very much enjoys the pleasant winter climate there. Hallie received her M.A. degree from Duke University in 1934.

Julia (Bryan) Futtrell, together with two friends, is running the "Carolina" at Virginia Beach this summer. They had an old cottage at the Beach last summer. This year they are back there, but in a brand new place, with twenty-seven rooms, located on Ocean Front and 23d Street. She extends a cordial invitation to all Woman's College alumnae to find out for themselves what a splendid place the "Carolina" is to spend one's vacation. Julia's daughter, Mary Frances, graduated this year from the high school in Nashville.

Edith Haight was planning to sail for the United States via the Europa this summer, coming home from her work as teacher of physical education in Ginning College, Nanking, China. Does anyone know whether she has arrived, and where?

Te Vera Millsaps, her classmates, as well as her college, extend warmest congratulations. She was awarded the Ph.D. degree in Botany at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, in June. Vera is a teacher of biology in McKinley High School, Washington City.

Pauline (Shaver) Moore has recently moved into her lovely new home on Park Avenue, Charlotte. She has three children—John 14, Elizabeth 12, and Thomas 9. This means that their mother is very busy this winter working in three Parent-Teacher Associations.

Carey (Wilson) Taylor's daughter, Caroline, was a student last year at Roberts-Beach School, Catonsville, Md. Her son, Winston, was a student at Woodberry Forest, Virginia.

CLASS OF 1917

Louise Maddrey, assistant to the dean at Hollins College, spent a few hours on the campus early in April. It was a great treat to have her here.

Sadie (Patton) Pharr is an active member of the Worth While Book Club, Charlotte. She was hostess to the group at a spring meeting, and was assisted in serving by her lovely little daughters, Sara and Joan. The twelve members of the club include the following alumnae: Marie (Norwood) Reilly '16, Jay (McIver) Hester '16, Pauline (Shaver) Moore '15, Bettie (Christenbury) Northrop class of '19, Della (Blevins) Graham class of '13, and Ollie (Gaston) McWirter com. '18.

Hats off—ladies and all—to Marianne (Richard) Nixon! She was a candidate for the Gates County Board of Education in the recent Democratic primary; and out of a field of six—five men and one woman (Marianne), she won second place. This result virtually means election in her county. She will be the first woman in the history of the county to be elected to public office. We should not wonder if she feels a little bit honored. But we think that the county has honored itself.

Onida (Watson) Sheppard's daughter, Sarah Margaret, was this year May Queen of the senior class of Badin High School. She is planning to enter Woman's College this fall.

CLASS OF 1919

Among those at the college for commencement were: Eoline Everett May, Mary Johnson, Annie Lee Stafford, Lucy Cherry Crisp, Frances Vaughan Wilson, Virginia Walsh, Bessie Boyd, and Mary Poteat.

Marjorie Craig, who taught English at Brevard College last year, writes that she is the "very newest member of the English Department, and exceedingly content with my lot," and not head of the department, as was published in the Alumnae News in its last number. This correction is most cheerfully made.

Arnette (Hathaway) Avery lives at Aberdeen, where her husband is a tobacco buyer. They have two children, one of whom is now in school. Arnette says that between keeping her husband's books and acting as general handy man, running the house, and looking after the children—she has a busy and interesting life.

Margaret Hayes started for Hawaii on June 28, following commencement at the New York State College for Teachers, Albany, N. Y., where she is assistant professor of education. She wrote she could hardly believe she had three whole months in which to do nothing except the things she really wanted to do. Ann Holdford is rural supervisor of schools in a county near Margaret, and they see each other quite often, sometimes slipping away for an afternoon's picnic in the mountains near by. Margaret's niece, Margaret Wyatt, will be a freshman at Woman's College next fall.

Frances (Vaughan) Wilson was among those present at Commencement. She has a new address—Route 2, Newton Grove.

CLASS OF 1920

Ethel (Boyte) Brown and her husband conduct the Boyte-Brown Tours every summer. They have been engaged in this business for a number of years. Their headquarters are in Charlotte.

Rachel Haynes is now living in Washington City, where she is working with the Federal Housing Administration.

We wonder whether Christine Sloan will repeat the wonderful trip she took last summer with her mother and three other girls. They started out from North Carolina in an automobile to see as much of their native land as they could in a comparatively short time. Stepping westward, they went by way of Texas to California, and returning saw the Grand Canyon, the Yosemite, Yellowstone, Carlsbad Caverns, and all the other wonders. "We traveled 9,000 miles—with car trouble only once, and that was a puncture in El Paso—over country as beautiful as any I have ever seen. Nothing I saw in Europe surpassed it. The ideal way to travel, I am convinced, is by motor. It enables you to go when you wish, to stop when and where you wish; but more than anything else, it enables you to get closer to the country itself, and to the people. I shall never forget stopping on the prairies of Wyoming and gathering seven different kinds of wild flowers in one spot in a few minutes' time. The mass of bloom had attracted our attention as we passed."

NO—NO—NOT IN JULY!

Carrie (Tabor) Stevens was a delegate from her county to the Triennial Congress of Farm Women of the World, held in Washington the last of May and the first days of June. She wrote, "While you are visiting Alumnae House, I shall be shaking hands with the president, thinking of you." Carrie is a new member of the Board of Trustees of the Woman's College Alumnae Association. She has also recently been elected chairman of the P.-T. A. for Bladen County. She has already visited every school in the county, and was deeply impressed with the quietness, order, cleanliness, and courtesy which she saw everywhere. Through the activities of her local P.-T. A., of which she was former president, the school at Council held the first 100 per cent pre-school clinic ever conducted in the county. This association was made a Standard Association; also received their merit certificates, besides having the reputation of being the most efficient organization in the county.

Lela (Wade) Phillips was one of four speakers, and the one woman, who spoke at West Market Church, Greensboro, at the regular Sunday morning service, held in observation of Annual Church School Day. Her subject was: "What I Expect the Church School to do for My Children." She is the new president of the Greensboro Council of Parents and Teachers.

CLASS OF 1921

Flossie Marie Foster is this summer a member of the faculty at Lake Chatouqua, New York. She is teaching subjects in Library Science. Flossie is a member of the staff of the New York (Central) Public Library at Fifth Avenue and 42nd Street.

Lula M. (McIver) Scott came to Greensboro the middle of May for a visit with her mother on the college campus. Lula Martin is regional director for women's activities of the WPA, in charge of the New England States and New York.

Ruth (Vick) Everett is the new chairman of the Drama Division of the North Carolina Federation of Woman's Clubs. She has also recently been elected vice president of the Carolina Dramatics Association. And as if that was not a good deal, with a nice husband and a nice son, and teaching history in the Seaboard High School, she has been asked to work up an episode in the Centennial Pageant of Education. She has had a grand vacation at Blowing Rock, and so—we congratulate all these organizations to which she so effectively gives of her time and attention.

CLASS OF 1922

Helen (Creasy) Hunter is president of the Mental Hygiene Society of Charlotte, an outgrowth of the Board of Directors of the Mental Hygiene Clinic Demonstration held under volunteer auspices from February, 1933, to October, 1934. On May 22 this year, the society sponsored a second Mental Hygiene institute, the first having been held a year ago, in Charlotte—bringing to the city from various parts of the state and country outstanding leaders in this field. "A Mental Hygiene Program in North Carolina," "Mental Hygiene of the Pre-School Child," "The Family Situation in Relation to Some Maladjustments of Children," "Some Mental Health Conditions in North Carolina," "Mental Hygiene in the Changing Times," were among the list of featured topics on the program which began in the morning and concluded with a dinner meeting in the evening. The general subject of the institute last year was "The Practical Application of Psychiatry." These institutes have been the culmination of the year's program which is two-fold in its objectives—educational and clinical.

Mozelle (Hunt) Burwell is in the insurance business in Rutherfordton. She is agent for the Fidelity and Casualty Company, of New York.

Jocelyne (McDowell) Williams is a North Carolinian again. Her husband has new work which brings them from Point Pleasant, New Jersey, to Morganton, to live. Edwina McDowell is living with them. She has a new social service job with headquarters in Morganton. Welcome home!

CLASS OF 1923

Sara (Harper) Jerome went to Fayetteville the latter part of May, where she was guest speaker for the Fayetteville Garden Club. Flower arrangement was used as her theme. Sarah is president of the Little Gate Garden Club of Greensboro.

Virginia Dare Holleman is president of the Durham City Teachers' Association.

Helene Hudnell taught at Washington, her home, last year. She came up to Greensboro in April to be the guest of her sister, Blossom (Hudnell) Thomas '24, during the Greensboro Flower Show. Mrs. Thomas was last year president of the Garden Council.

Dr. Agnes Stout was among those present at Commencement. She is head of the department of English at Queens-Chicora, Charlotte.

CLASS OF 1924

Martha (Hamilton) Morgan rested last year from her work as teacher of Biblical Literature in Converse College. But shortly after Christmas a little son, Elford Hamilton, was born. She finds him a thrilling and exciting addition to life.

Elizabeth (Hunter) Lange lives at Excelsior, Minnesota. She has two small sons.

Elizabeth Simkins had a good trip to the meeting of the American Library Association, held in Richmond, in May. While there, she slipped down to Henderson to see her sister, Aune (Simkins) Nixon '27, and her new niece, Alice Elizabeth, who is just a few weeks old. Elizabeth is still doing reference work at the State Teachers College in Muncie, Indiana, and teaching some Library Science course.

CLASS OF 1925

Josephine Clark could tell you many interesting things in connection with her work with the Children's Home, Greensboro—a child-placing society.

Edwina Deaus was awarded her M.A. degree in education at Duke University on June 8. She is spending the summer months there, as secretary for one of her professors.

Polly Duffy was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Woman's College this spring. She was unable to come down from New York for the ceremonies, but was later initiated at Barnard College. Polly is teacher of psychology at Sarah Lawrence College.

Curlee Drapery Shop

110 South Greene Street

For your DECORATING PROBLEMS consult us. We specialize in Curtains, Draperies, Venetian Blinds, Lamps, Window Shades, Pillows, Drapery Hardware, trimmings and other accessories for the home — as smart as they are inexpensive.

YOUR INSPECTION IS INVITED

Louise (Farber) Sharove wrote from Weldon, where she has been for some time at the home of her parents, recuperating from a long illness. Louise was in bed seven months due to a heart condition, and although she still lives the life of a semi-invalid, she is steadily improving. Louise says it was a real cross to give up housekeeping and her class in piano in order to do such a prosaic thing as "get well," but she is expecting to return to Petersburg, Virginia, her home, this fall to resume activities. She sees Margaret (Hudson) Joyner '26, who lives in Weldon, almost daily. Margaret has two lovely children. Louise also spoke of Hilda (Weil) Wallerstein '26, whom she had recently seen. Hilda also has two adorable children, and as for Hilda herself—well, she is still a "peach"!

Dr. Velma Matthews is the only woman on the staff this summer at Mountain Lake Biological Station, a research station conducted by the University of Virginia. She is teaching mycology. For the past two years, Velma has been head of the department of biology at Coker College.

CLASS OF 1926

Julia (Blauvelt) McGrane lives on Long Island, New York. She has two charming children, but finds time to write poetry—a thing she loved to do when in college.

Brooks (Johnson) Silvette is an artist who married into a family of artists. Her father-in-law, Ellis M. Silvette, is a well known portrait painter, having painted such outstanding men as Thomas A. Edison, Andrew Mellon, and others. His portrait of General Lee, which hangs in the Confederate Museum, Richmond, is one often reproduced. A brother-in-law, David Silvette, is also an artist, one of his portraits—that of Dr. Cox, president of Emory University, having recently been published in the New York Times. One sister-in-law, Marcia Silvette, is a teacher at the University of Richmond, and has made quite a name for herself as a painter. She had a one man show at the University of Virginia last spring. Another sister-in-law, Mildred Silvette, is now studying painting. Dr. Herbert Silvette, Brooks' husband, is a physiologist, a member of the faculty of the University of Virginia, and the only member of his immediately family, except his mother, who is not a professional painter. Brooks has a studio of her own in Charlottesville, where she teaches painting, and several of her students have already exhibited their work. Her own works—portraits and landscapes, she signs sometimes Brooks Silvette, sometimes Brooks Johnson Silvette. At an exhibition of paintings by contemporary artists of Albemarle County and the University, held at the University of Virginia last spring, in the museum of fine arts, Brooks exhibited a red chalk drawing, in which she specializes. Seven other displays represented the work of her students.

"What are my major interests?" Maude Query says hers are boys and girls and books, plus sports, which come in for a great deal of attention. Maude has been librarian in the Spencer High School for the past three years. She is a member of the Salisbury chapter of Pi Omicron, a national sorority devoted to art, music, literature, and she very much enjoys her connection with this organization.

Julia Melver is assistant state clothing specialist, working in connection with the State College Extension Division, Raleigh.

Hermene (Warlick) Eichhorn's composition, "While Mary Slept," was featured by the college choir of one hundred voices at the concert presented in Aycock Auditorium on Sunday afternoon of Commencement. Hermene's composition is for piano, organ, and voice. This year her composition, "Carolina Breakdown," dedicated to her father, won the prize for the best piano composition—submitted in the contest sponsored by the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. Dr. Charles Wakefield Cadman, nationally known composer, selected her work, submitted under another name, from a large number of manuscripts. In giving this composition first rank, Dr. Cadman remarked, "Of such a type of literature this nation needs more! It is the work of a musician, simple and direct, and expressive of the life of the people."

THE COLLEGE CHOIR OF 100 VOICES

President, Rachel Moser '37

Director, George M. Thompson

Membership in the College Choir carries regular college credit of one semester hour for the year's work. The Choir sings regularly every Tuesday at chapel in Aycock Auditorium. Two public programs a year are definitely scheduled: a Christmas program of Christmas music, and a spring program of varied numbers—part sacred and part secular. A third program was given this year on commencement Sunday afternoon. One of the numbers used was "While Mary Slept," composed by Hermene Warlick Eichhorn '26.

Her total published works now number seven, and they do say that she draws real money from their sale. For eight years, she has written "Music Notes," a weekly column in the Greensboro Daily News, and she declares she is prouder of her writing than of her composition in music. But her many friends—who are among her readers too—can hardly agree.

CLASS OF 1927

Blanche Armfield has recently had two sonnets published in Contemporary American Women Poets, an Anthology published by The Spinners, a New York poetry magazine, by, of, and for women. Blanche's titles are in good company, for Edna St. Vincent Millay, and others of her ilk, are among the contributors. Blanche is in Washington City now, where she has a position with the Civil Service as an examiner. She says she has a fascinating job, with time on her hands for going to concerts and good shows. "And the alluring aspect of it all is that I don't have to worry about my pupils' passing!" Incidentally, Blanche is living with Evelyn (Trogon) Habel. In fact, she sees "another one of those Woman's College alumnae" all along. Not long ago she ran into Arvilla Copeland and her husband, Mr. L. M. Johnson, who taught English here for a while. He is engaged in research work in Washington.

Ola Irene Fleming was awarded a Master's degree in English at the University, Chapel Hill, at commencement this year. She teaches that subject in the high school at China Grove.

Elizabeth (Howland) Dawson is living now in Burlington, where her husband is pastor of Webb Avenue Methodist Church. They have two children, Mary Howland and Robert Grady, Jr. It is pleasant to have them so near the college again.

Dorothy Pickard is now Mrs. P. B. Platt. She was married last December 20. They are living in Wilmington.

Rebekah (Smith) Davis claims there is nothing to tell about herself, but the Alumnae Office thinks there is. In a recent letter she says: "I am delighted about the Alumnae House. One of the enclosed checks is to be applied toward that fund, and the other is for alumnae dues."

Evelyn (Trogon) Habel has a splendid job in Washington City—secretary with the Special Mexican Claims Commission, a division of the State Department, with its own private suite of offices. Edgar Turlington, chief Counsel of the commission, is a brilliant Tar Heel lawyer. Evelyn says it keeps her on the qui vive to keep pace with such an array of brilliant legal minds as the commission includes. Well, if you ask us, Evelyn is rather bright herself!

CLASS OF 1929

Irene Boliek received her Ph.D. in Zoology at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, this commencement. Congratulations! Irene taught science in the Selma High School for the two years following her graduation, and has been studying at Chapel Hill almost continuously ever since. Last year she taught at the Woman's College in Alabama. She won her M.A. from the University in 1922.

Ruth Clinard, secretary for the American Red Cross in Mecklenburg County, went to Springfield, Massachusetts, the latter part of March as a part of the Red Cross Disaster Relief set-up there. She had thought that the rehabilitation program would be finished in time for her to be present at Commencement, "but with nearly six thousand families in the flood area to be re-established, we shall probably be here until the middle of June. It has been a most interesting and strenuous time. I send my best wishes for a happy Commencement season."

Katharine (Fleming) Middleton has recently moved into a new home, just completed, in Raleigh. She has a two-year-old daughter, Killian, and Katharine says the two of them are very much enjoying housekeeping!

Mattie Query has it on her "itinerary" to come down from Portsmouth to visit the Alumnae House and see her friends here at college. We promise to meet her with a "brass band" of welcome. She has taught the sixth grade in the Portsmouth schools since graduation.

Ethel (Snow) Fritz and her husband have left the Navajo country and the desert of Arizona for South Dakota. They started north about the first of April, driving all the way, across the desert of Arizona, across New Mexico, over the mountains of Colorado, over the snow-covered plains of Wyoming, and into the black hills of South Dakota. They are now on the Sioux reservation, at Cheyenne Agency, located on the banks of the Missouri River. "The rolling hills all around us look as though some giant's child had been playing in the sand and made a great host of sand piles. The hills are turning green now—it is the middle of May, and I think spring has really come to the north. I shall be thinking of you at commencement, and wishing I might be there with you."

Mary Little Steele teaches French and Social Science in the Asheboro High School.

Virginia Ward is doing excellent work as home demonstration agent in Gaston County, with headquarters in Gastonia.

Catherine White has completed a little more than half of her training in nursing at Johns Hopkins Hospital. She says that although she sometimes longs for the schoolroom, which she deserted for her present occupation, still nursing is such fascinating work that she doesn't regret the change.

CLASS OF 1930

Katherine Barrier was last year a student in the school of library science at Chapel Hill, and received her A.B. degree at Commencement in June. She came up the week before for commencement at Woman's College.

Alma Blanchard visited on the campus a short while last spring. She is interested in organizing an alumnae chapter in Gates County. Just before commencement she wrote, "I am enclosing a check for the Alumnae House Fund." Needless to say its receipt consoled us some for her absence during the commencement season.

Ruth Dodd is now supervisor of casework in the Orange County Welfare Department. Her particular duty is supervision of the field work of students studying in the department of public administration at the University. She is very enthusiastic about it all. Betty E. Sloan '32 came down from New York the first of May for a visit in Chapel Hill, and she and Ruth came over to the College for a visit with friends on the campus.

Donnie Gold is now Mrs. Paris L. Yelton. She lives in Shelby.

Mabel Holland is connected with Station WBIG, Greensboro, in the advertising division. She is also active in West Market Church, as superintendent of the Junior Department.

Mrs. Minnie D. Hussey, member of the library staff, delighted the Guilford Battle Chapter of the D.A.R. so much when she talked to them at their April meeting, that they gave her a rising vote of appreciation. She reviewed informally a number of her favorite books of the current year.

Glenn Boyd MacLeod is now secretary of the Consolidated Summer Session of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Frankie Jo (Mann) Torpy attended the meeting of the Association of Official Seed Analysts of North America, held in Rochester, New York, during June. She and Vivian Kearns went as delegates from their office in the Agri-

E. A. WOODSELL

Service Printer

Successor to "Kendall"

216 N. Elm Street GREENSBORO, N. C.

cultural Department, Washington City. Frankie Jo appeared on the program, reading a paper on "Growing Tests of Differentiate between Melilotus Alba and Melilotus Officialis on Seed Characteristics." She has been working on this problem for more than three years, and has still another year to study the question; but those in charge thought it would be very much worth while to present at this meeting what had been accomplished up to the present.

Eloise Rhodes, who graduated in nursing after leaving the college, is at present at home in Windsor, where she is taking care of her mother who has been ill for some time. Eloise left her work at Seton Hospital, New York City, in order to come home to nurse her mother. She is eager to get up to the college the very first opportunity to see the Alumnae House, and a very special invitation is right now extended to her to do that.

CLASS OF 1931

Ruth (Abbott) Clarke, Reidsville, whose husband is a Presbyterian minister, studied art at the college last year, having enrolled in the new department organized for the first time last fall. In the exhibit shown in the Y. W. Hut the latter part of May, Ruth's work attracted much attention. She was the only student to put on a one-man show in connection with the exhibit, an honor awarded the highest ranking student in the department.

Miriam Block came to Greensboro during the spring for a visit with her family and friends. But the friends kept her so busy going to luncheons and parties, that the family hardly got to see her at all! She has a secretarial job in Washington City.

Madge (Cline) Young writes from Belwood. She declares she is one of these busy mothers, who is convinced that taking care of Billy Max, her little son, is the most wonderful thing in the world that anybody could do.

For the past two years, Louisa Hatch has been teaching in the high school at her home in Hamlet. Last summer she served as hostess in one of the dormitories at Chapel Hill, and at the same time worked on her Master's degree in history.

Charlotte Hill was a member of the faculty of the annual Youth Conference of the North Carolina Disciples of Christ, held during June at Camp Sapphire, near Brevard. She is a teacher of physical education in Atlantic Christian College, Wilson.

Evelyn Rives taught last year in the Elon High School. She was at her home in Greensboro for about ten days during the winter, ill, and when she returned the junior class entertained in her honor, and the teachers in the senior school presented her with a birthday cake.

May Swann has been home demonstration agent for Lenoir County for the past year or so. Kinston is headquarters.

Mabel Tate has had a secretarial position for two years with the American Medical Association, Chicago. Her family moved several years ago from High Point, N. C., to Hamilton, Montana, so that Montana is now "home."

Nelle Thomson has been laboratory technician at the State Hospital in Raleigh for the past two years.

Edith Vail was a member of the faculty at Woman's College this year, teaching in the department of physical education. Orchesis, creative dance organization, was under her general direction, and the annual dance drama put on by this organization, received much praise for the program presented in Aycock Auditorium the middle of May.

Congratulations! Mary Jane (Wharton) Thayer received her Ph.D. in Zoology at Yale University at the June commencement. Mary Jane lives in New York, and taught science in the Fieldston High School last year. Her husband, a graduate of Yale Law School, practices law in New York City.

CLASS OF 1932

Martha Fountain was married last December 21 to Hardy Johnson of Fountain. The wedding took place in the Presbyterian church at that place. During the fall, Martha taught French and English in the La Grange High School, and since her marriage she and her husband have been living in Fountain.

Cora (Fox) Craven lives now at Asheboro. She has a small daughter, Ann.

Pauline Galloway came down from New York and visited on the campus the latter part of March. She received her M. A. degree in economics at Columbia University, June 1935. Last year she continued her studies there—part time, working toward a Ph.D. Part of her time she devoted to volunteer work with the State Labor Department. Pauline is living with her sister, Marguerite '18, at Yorktown Heights.

Rose (Goodwin) McAllister says that most of her time is spent trying to keep an eye on "Jay"—this being James, son, now a little more than a year old. He had his picture in the Greensboro Daily News not long ago, in the Baby division.

Sue Horner is attending summer session at her Alma Mater. She is house president in Mary Foust dormitory, and a member of the summer judicial board.

Pansy (McConnell) Hood says that her work with the American Red Cross in New York presents an endless variety of interesting problems. She is connected with the Home Service Division, and does case work with families of disabled and deceased war veterans.

Petty E. Sloan is now senior case worker (family field) with the Brooklyn, New York, Bureau of Charities.

CLASS OF 1933

Ruth Cobb received her M.A. degree in social work at Western Reserve University in the spring of 1935. She remained in Cleveland doing social service work.

Christine Hatch, rather recently Mrs. H. E. Jones, wrote from Liberty:

My dear Classmates of '33:

If you will look in Luke 14:29, you will find that one of the men who was invited to the great banquet said to the servant who carried the invitation to him, "I have married a wife and therefore I cannot come." Well, I have married a husband, and therefore I cannot come to the reunion. This is a warning to you who have not yet married a husband. If you ever find a man who even looks as if he would like to pop the question to you, let me advise you to take to your heels at once. Just listen to this:

A friend: "Well how are you getting on now that you are married?"

Christine: "Oh, it's just like the Garden of Eden."

The friend: "I'm glad to hear that."

Christine: "Yes, we have nothing to wear and daily are in fear of being turned out."

Really, I should like very much to meet my friends of '33, to be reunited with them once more at the Woman's College where I spent many happy hours; but my husband is getting his B.D. from Duke University and naturally I should like to be with him during the commencement exercises at Duke. Greetings to each of you.

Laura (Jarrett) McGlamery taught science and mathematics in the Hayesville High School last year. She was also sponsor in athletics for the ninth and tenth grade girls, and sponsor of one of the literary societies.

Jessie Johnson has taught English and French in the Hope Mills High

EASY PAYMENTS

Sancton & Dickerson

Jewelers and Optometrists

207 South Elm St., opp. Meyer's Dept. Store
Phone 2.0044 Greensboro, N. C.

School for the past three years, and says that she is enjoying her work immensely.

Constance Lam came down from New York for a visit with Miss Laird at the College shortly after Commencement. She brought with her Dr. Lee, an eminent Chinese physician, who is in this country studying American additions in his field. Constance was a busy person while here. Her many friends showed her numerous courtesies, and arranged various conferences and contacts for both her and Dr. Lee. Constance went to New York after her graduation here, where she studied at the New York School of Social Work, receiving her diploma last January. Incidentally, somewhere along the way, she learned shorthand and typewriting, and for the past several months has served as secretary to a lawyer in New York. This month she returns to China, to enter Peiping Union Medical College this fall to study medicine. This college was established by the Rockefeller Foundation, over $3,000,000.00 having been appropriated by the Foundation for this purpose.

Bobbie Musgrave teaches History in the Washington High School, and coaches the girls' basketball team. This school has made an outstanding record in basketball.

Mary Emma Powell is home demonstration agent in Jones County. During the past year, she had seventeen women's clubs, four Four-H Clubs, and a service club.

Among those present for Commencement was Margaret Stallings, who had a sister, Nell, in the graduating class.

Harmon Taylor lives in Greensboro, where she is connected with the advertising department of Meyer's Department Store. Under her direction, the store presented a Children's Spring Fashion Show, nearly a hundred children acting as models, and taking part in the program of dancing.

Lottie Wall, member of the Greensboro High School faculty, directed the play, Charles Q. Burdette's "Once in a Lifetime," which was presented by the high school dramatic association, in the high school auditorium, early in May. This was the second production of the school year.

Mary Bailey Williams is director of Religious Education at the Druid Hills Presbyterian Church, Atlanta. And in addition, quotes Mary Bailey, "maid of all work!"

CLASS OF 1934

Alice Armfield is back at her home in Concord, from the hospital, and is very much improved in health.

Marguerite Boles served as director of choral music in the grades in the Strasburg, Virginia, grammar school last year, also director of the junior choir in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, in addition to teaching the sixth grade. The year before she taught public school music in the schools of Fairmont.

Katherine Bonitz has an interesting job in connection with the North Carolina State Employment office, Raleigh. All along she week-ends in Greensboro, where part of her family lives.

Clay Howard was married last December 21 to Gill Rowland, and lives in Greenville, S. C.

Mary Elizabeth Keister received her M.A. degree from the University of Iowa. Last year she was an assistant teacher in the pre-school laboratories of the Iowa Child Welfare Research Station. In addition to her teaching, she studied courses leading to her master's degree, and carried on a research project with one hundred and twenty pre-school children as subjects.

Rachel Lipscombe spent last winter in New York City, but returned to Greensboro during the spring preparatory to her wedding. But her fiancée, who lived in New York City, died suddenly a few days before the marriage was to have taken place.

Catharine Marrow is an X-Ray operator for the City Memorial Hospital, Winston-Salem.

Martha Meroney taught English this past year in the high school at Spruce Pine. Last summer she studied at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, as a member of the committee to revise the North Carolina course of study in English.

Among the '34s who were seen on the campus during Commencement was Elizabeth Mitchell, whose sister, Linda, will be chief marshal at the college next year.

Lois McClure has a secretarial position with the American Can Company, Chicago. She lives at Maywood, a suburb of Chicago, commuting to and from her work.

Claudia Moore has, since graduation, been a member of the faculty of the Physical Education Department of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. She is director of Orchestra, and on May 15, the Women's Athletic Association of the University presented Orchestra in a Dance Recital in Grant Memorial Hall. The attractive programs indicate the excellence of the performance.

Margaret Plonk left the latter part of June for a trip through the western part of the U. S. A. The first stop was in Texas, and from there the party went on to New Mexico, thence to California, where they will spend the greater part of the two months they will be away. Mexico and Canada both come in for a share of the journey.

Pearl Rosser taught history and science last year in the Siler City High School. She saw her Silk Hope girls win the basketball championship of Chatham County for the second time this spring. Pearl coached the teams.

Margaret Toulminson again coached the Dramatic Club in the Wilson High School last year, in addition to her work as teacher of General Science and Commercial Geography.

Hallie Sykes received her A.B. in Library Science from the University at Chapel Hill this June. She is working in Woman's College Library this summer.

Elizabeth (Wills) Whittington is continuing a second year as president of the Greensboro Chapter of the A.A.U.W. Greensboro was hostess club to the state convention which met in Greensboro the middle of April.

Grace Williams is doing social service work in Raleigh. She studied at the New York School of Social Work from March to September, 1935, when she came to her present post.

Molly Winborne has a stenographic position with an insurance company in Raleigh. She went abroad the summer after her graduation, and took her business course the following year.

CLASS OF 1935

Amount paid on Organ Fund $166.80. This brings the total to $915.00.

Edythe Ellis is receptionist and assistant interviewer in the Junior Placement Service of the North Carolina State Employment Service, Durham. She accepted this work about the first of May, and likes it very much.

Susanne Ketchum told the fascinating life story of Mrs. Siddons, famous English actress, in a talk which she made before the Round Table Study Club, Greensboro, at a May meeting. She plans to study at Yale University next year.

Elizabeth Leftwich and her family are now living in Mooresville, Alabama, having moved there last April. A number of her college friends in Greensboro received for her before her departure for her new home.

Alice Marie Squires is living now at Port Allegany, Pa.

Mary Woodward wrote from the Cornwall (New York) Hospital her regrets that she couldn't be with the class at its first reunion.

"I wish that I could write saying 'I'll see you Friday.' That, however, is impossible just now, as much as I might wish it. Tyler has promised to remember everything in detail so that she can tell me all when I see her here in June, though. And it's in the Y Hut, too—oh, dear, I guess I'll be one of the sentimental alumnae after all.

* * *

"After spending six months studying the problems of the employed quite intimately, I finally got this job in the office of the hospital. It's extremely interesting from 'a sociological viewpoint,' as Glenn R. might say, but the hours are like those in the Pomona Mills. Now and then, though, I manage to break away and spend a day in the city parading through the Five & Ten's to my heart's content."

Ruth Worley received her A.B. degree in Library Science at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, at Commencement this June.

CLASS OF 1936

Everlasting president, Mary Louise Shepherd, Durham; vice president, Louise Bell, Mooresville; secretary, Betty Griesinger Sink, Raleigh; Treasurer, Elizabeth Barineau, Lincolnton; cheer leader, Dorothy Poole, Winston-Salem.

Class Chairmen: Elizabeth Barineau, Lincolnton; Kent Blair, Charlotte; Elizabeth Buhmann, Greensboro; Mildred Bullock, Oxford; Kathleen Capps, Arcola; Evelyn Cavileer, Nashville, Tenn.; Eliza Cromartie, Fayetteville; Mary Glenn, Gastonia; Mary Olive Hackney, Lucama; Lillian Hartness, Mooresville; Margaret Knight, Greensboro; Alice Knott, Oxford; Mary Ruth McNeill, Lumberton; Margaret Mayhew, Mooresville; Nell Stallings, Louisburg; Sue Steele, Stony Point.

Colors, Lavender and white. Flower, Iris. Motto, Nosee tete. Gift to the College, a sum of money.

Number who are paid-up members in the Alumnae Association, 122. Number who subscribed to the Class Fund, for the Organ and membership in the Association, 76.

Awarded the Weil Fellowship, Christiana McFadyen.

Elected to Phi Beta Kappa: Elizabeth Barineau, Mary Reynolds Bradshaw, Elizabeth Buhmann, Mansseat Garrard, Betty Griesinger, Blanche Newsome Hardy, Rosabelle Hinton, Ruby Jane Keller, Christiana McFadyen, Mary Catherine Proctor, Cornelia Snow, Mary Clare Stokes, Martha Thomas, Elizabeth Yates.

NECROLOGY

IN MEMORIAM

Notre Johnson, former student, class of 1896. When news came to the college that Notre Johnson had passed away suddenly the night before—Sunday,

Odell Hardware Company

"The Carolinas' Greatest Hardware and Sporting Goods House"

GREENSBORO, N. C.

June 14, regret filled our hearts. She was one of the first students to enroll at the college after its establishment. She continued to be one of its most loyal alumnae. Whether it was a Commencement occasion, alumnae seminar, an alumnae council meeting, she was always there—unless it were an impossibility. We shall miss her presence and her interest. For a long while previous to her death, she had served as principal of the Oak Ridge School, and in that capacity made a distinct contribution to education, and to the recognition of the ability of women to do administrative work. To her relatives and friends, we extend sympathy, in which her college friends sincerely share.

Gertrude Griffin Norris (Mrs. C. E. Norris), class of 1913, who died at her home in Goldsboro on the morning of June 22, following a long illness. To her sisters, Hattie Griffin '08 and Mary Griffin '10, we offer our sincerest sympathy.

Katherine Davis, class of 1933, died in Duke Hospital, on May 25, following an illness of eleven weeks, from chronic nephritis. Since graduation, until the time of her illness, she had taught the fifth grade in the Kernersville School.

We extend deepest sympathy:

To Edith (Mason) McLean '10, in the death of her husband on January 8, at their home near Gastonia, following ill health of long duration.

To Willard Powers '10, whose mother died September 6, 1935. She and Willard had lived alone together, had been companions on many trips and in all the activities of their lives.

To Nettie (Fleming) Smith '12, Wilmington, in the death of her mother in Greensboro last January 7.

To Ione Grogan '13 in the death of her father, March 23, Reidsville.

To Vera Millsaps '15 and Katherine Millsaps '21, whose father died on June 2 at his home in Statesville, following a long illness. For twenty years Mr. Millsaps taught in the county schools of this state, but later received an appointment as farm agent for Iredell County, this post being followed by his appointment as assistant to the state agent, serving first forty-one counties west of Guilford, and later twenty-one counties in the Piedmont section of the state.

To Katherine (Wilson) White '19 in the death of her husband in an automobile collision on March 21.

To Katie (Whitley) Josey '22, whose husband died last spring.

To Louise (Farber) Sharove '25, Petersburg, Va., in the death of her mother last January.

MARRIED

Pattie Jordan '20 to Harry Albert Alexander, April 11, at the First Presbyterian Church, High Point. For the past several years, Pattie has been a popular member of the faculty of the High Point city schools, and during this time she lived with her sister, Octavia (Jordan) Perry '16. Pattie was once vice president of the general Alumnae Association, and represented the alumnae in the work with the Legislature for appropriations to the college.

Mary John '22 to Harry McCohan Rex, June 22, Laurinburg. Since her graduation, Mary has taught elementary work almost continuously in the schools of Laurinburg and Raleigh, making an enviable record in her profession. She has an M.A. degree from Columbia University. A year or so ago, she went to Washington to become connected with the Civil Service Commission, grading Civil Service examinations. The bridegroom is a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy, is an engineer in the Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D. C.

Rena Cole '24 to J. Rankin Parks, at the home of the bride's parents, Wilmington. In addition to her bachelor's degree, Rena holds her master's degree in English from Woman's College. She also did graduate work at Columbia University and at the University of Georgia. For several years she was teacher of English in the Greensboro high school, but for the past two or three winters, she has been principal of the Forest Hills school in Wilmington. Rena has spent several vacations seeing America and also travelling in Europe. The bridegroom is a graduate of Elon College, and holds a position in Washington City, where he is connected with the Southeastern Express Company. At home there.

Harriette Grace Redfearn '27 to Jack Fritchard Alton, June 4, Greensboro. Last year Harriette was a member of the Greensboro High School faculty, teaching mathematics. Previous to that time, she had taught the same subject in Gibsonville. The bridegroom is a well known contractor in Greensboro. At home there.

Ollie Robinson '27 to Reverend Ralph C. Bassett, June 3, Friedland Moravian Church, Winston-Salem. For several years, Ollie has been a member of the faculty of Central Junior High School, Greensboro, teaching home economics. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Bethlehem College and Princeton University. He is pastor of the Friedland-Providence Moravian Churches, near Winston-Salem. At home there.

Jessie Wicker '27 to Howard McDonald Ellis, June 1, Graham Methodist Church, Graham. For the past few years, Jessie has taught in the High Point city schools. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College, and is now connected with the agricultural extension service at State College. At home Raleigh.

Agnes Peacock, Com. '27, to James David McSwain, March 23, Salisbury. For the past several years, Agnes has been secretary in the office of the Board of Christian Education of the western North Carolina conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The bridegroom is connected in business with the Crane Company, Greensboro. At home there.

Estoy Bragg '29 to Richard Barton Hayes, June 15, at the home of the bride's parents, Franklinton. Willie B. Koontz '29 sang two numbers preceding the wedding service. Vera Bragg '31 was maid of honor. Hazel Clark '29 assisted in receiving the guests. For the past several years, Estoy has taught in the schools of Hudson. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Davidson College, and is now engaged in the textile business. At home Lenoir.

Ruth Norcom '29 to Robert L. St. Clair, in an afternoon ceremony, May 30, at Harrison Lodge, Bangall, N. Y. Since graduation, Ruth has made her home in New York, and at present is a member of the staff of Gimbel's Department Store. The bridegroom is a graduate of Syracuse University, and is connected with the Consolidated Edison Plant. At home Woodside, Long Island.

Frances B. Poole '28 to Malcolm Buie Seawell, at the home of the bride's parents, Lumberton, June 9. Since her graduation, Frances has been teaching elementary work in a consolidated school near Lumberton, her home. Mr. Seawell was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and later studied law at Northwestern University. He is connected with the parole commission in Raleigh. At home Chapel Hill.

Margaret Elizabeth Buchanan '30 to Marvin Thomas Snipes, June 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Wade. Since graduation, Margaret has been a member of the faculty of the Boone Trail High School, Lillington. The bridegroom is an alumnus of South Georgia Military Academy, Mercer University, and Presbyterian College. He is also a member of the faculty of the Boone Trail High School.

Matilda Etheridge '30 to Elwood H. Inge, noon, April 22, Baptist Church, Manteo.

Evelyn Starr '30 to R. H. Thomas, June 20 in Baltimore. Last year Evelyn taught in the Y.M.C.A. Business College, Baltimore. At home Charlotte.

Cora Lee Cox '31 to Paul Lindsay Sikes, June 25, at eight in the evening, at the home of the bride's father, Greensboro. Catharine Cox '27 was maid of honor. Emily (Cox) Holland '23 sang a soprano number preceding the taking of the vows. Louisa Cox '34, pianist, rendered the wedding music. Cora Lee, a B.S.H.E. major, is manager of the lunch room and soda shop at Meyer's Department Store. The bridegroom, an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, was formerly draftsman with the treasury department of the United States Government, but is now located in Greensboro, where he is designing and building houses.

Lily Dolvin '31 to Charles Kendrick Marsh, June 6, Siloam Presbyterian Church, Siloam, Georgia. Lily has taught primary work in the schools of Bryson City since her graduation. The bridegroom is a graduate of The Citadel, and holds a position with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. At home Greensboro.

Inez Murray '31 to Carroll Thornton Overton, June 30, at the home of the bride's aunt, Oxford. Inez has been teaching public school music in the Berryhill school, Mecklenburg County. Lucile (Miller) English '29 and Susie Jackson '32 were bridesmaids. The bridegroom is a graduate of Davidson College, and a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He is a representative of the B.V.D. Corporation and the Sealpax Manufacturing Company of New York, with headquarters in Salisbury. Among those who extended prenuptial courtesies to Inez were Margaret '30 and Elizabeth Crews '30 and Corinne Cook '29.

Pearl Sykes '31 to William Julian Stone, May 30, at half-past ten in the morning, at the home of the bride's parents, Asheboro. For the past two years, Pearl has been a member of the faculty of the Asheboro schools. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, and is engaged in business in Canton. At home there.

Lois Champion '32 to R. B. Smith, June 14, at the Methodist parsonage, Danville, Virginia. For the past two years Lois has been high school librarian in Marion. The bridegroom is employed by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey with headquarters in Marion. At home there.

Helen Virginia Frye '32 to Joseph Withers Shuford, June 16, at five in the afternoon, Bethany Lutheran Church, Hickory. Since graduation, Helen has been a member of the faculty of the Hickory high school. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College, and is engaged in the furniture and undertaking business, Hickory. At home there.

Alyce Darrow Fuller '32 to Silas Walker Blanton, June 26, First Methodist Church, Lansdowne, Pennsylvania. E. Carlton Abbott, whose wife is Mary Lou Fuller '28, gave the bride away. Verne (Fuller) Blackwell '27, was matron of honor. After graduating from Woman's College, Alyce was librarian in the Marion High School for two years. The past two years she has held a similar position in the Springfield High School, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. Alyce made many friends while in college, and won numerous honors. In her senior year she was voted "Culture" among the superlatives. Mr. Blanton was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, with the class of 1927, and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is associated with his father in the wholesale grocery business, operating in western North Carolina. After their wedding trip to Bermuda, at home Marion.

Cornelia Montgomery '32 to William Kennett Blair, March 14, Grace Methodist Church, Greensboro. Since graduation, Cornelia has been laboratory technician at Wesley Long Hospital, Greensboro. The bridegroom is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and a member of Chi

"SERVICE"

PHIL R. CARLTON, Inc.

Real Estate • Rents • Insurance
Bonding

Carlton Building, Opposite Courthouse
Dial 6536

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Psi fraternity. He is sales promotion manager for the Meyer's Company, Greensboro. At home there.

Margaret Paschal '32 to Buxton Barker Williams, May 24, Oxford. For several years, Margaret has been a member of the faculty of Wake Forest High School. The bridegroom is an alumnus of State College, and is now a dealer in automobiles in Warrenton. At home there.

Emve Paul '32 to William Currie Singletary, at five in the afternoon, March 28, First Presbyterian Church, Greensboro. Mary Brummitt '33 was maid of honor. After her graduation, Emve studied hospital dietetics at the Memorial Hospital, Richmond, and later was awarded a scholarship at the Merrill-Palmer School, Detroit, Michigan, in preparation for her work as a nursery school director. For the past two years, she has been in charge of the Nursery School in connection with the Home Economics Department at Woman's College. Mr. Singletary is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is connected with the Pilot Life Insurance Company, Greensboro, where they are at home.

Mildred Boatman '33 to Roy Young, June 6, at four o'clock in the afternoon, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Greensboro. Margaret Boatman '37 was bride's maid. Immediately after the ceremony, Miss Mildred Gould, aunt of the bride, and teacher of English at Woman's College, received at her home in Greensboro, honoring the bridal party and their friends. For two years after graduation, Mildred taught school near Marion. Last year she taught at All Saint's School for Girls, an Episcopal Church school, in Sioux Falls, N. D. The bridegroom is a construction engineer. During the summer they will be in West Virginia, where Mr. Young is busy with a project, but later plan to make their home near Marion.

Eloise Cobb '33 to Daniel John Harris, May 2, New York City. Since graduation, Eloise has lived in New York City, where she was connected with Macy's department store. The bridegroom has a post with the federal government. At home Washington City.

Valeria Jackson '33 to Walter J. Sniford, Jr., in an evening ceremony, June 6, First Presbyterian Church, Mount Airy. For the past three years, Valeria has been a member of the faculty of the Mount Airy High School. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Columbia Military Academy, and was graduated from State College, Raleigh, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He is owner and manager of the Surry Dairy Products Company.

Mabel Smith '33 to Joseph Clay-

bourne Cordle, June 21, Congregational-Christian Church, Greensboro, Virginia. Mabel, sister of the bride and a junior at Woman's College, sang two numbers preceding the taking of the vows. Since graduation, Mabel has been a member of the faculty of the W. R. Odell Consolidated school in Cabarrus County, teaching elementary work. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and is now connected with the Duke Power Company, Greensboro. At home there.

Marguerite Boles '34 to Major Medford Grove Ramsey, U. S. A., in a military ceremony at eight in the evening, July 21, Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, Strasburg, Va. Since graduation Marguerite has taught public school music at Fairmont. The bridegroom is a member of the faculty of Virginia Military Institute.

Nancy Joyce Cates '34 to John Murray McKelvey, June 27, Mebane. Lollie Boyd, '33, Bernice Love '34, and Bertha Dixon '33 assisted in receiving at the informal reception which followed the ceremony. Last year Joyce taught English and French in the Biscoe High School. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Campbell College, and is now employed in the laboratories of Lola Mills. At home Stanley.

Anzonetta Fisher '34 to Ralph Gordon Edwards, June 20, St. John's Lutheran Church, Salisbury. Since her graduation, Anzonetta has taught primary work in the schools of Pittsboro, her home town. The bridegroom is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is connected in business with Armour & Company. At home Salisbury.

Adelaide Fortune '34 to Howard Holderness, on the evening of April 4, at the First Baptist Church, Greensboro. Susan Gregory was maid of honor. For the year previous to her marriage, Adelaide was a member of the secretarial staff at Woman's College. The year of her graduation, Adelaide was voted Beauty in the list of college superlatives, and later in the summer represented North Carolina in the annual Rhododendron Festival held at Asheville, along with the representatives of ten other southern states. She made many friends while in college, and won numerous honors, among them, marshal, co-society representative, and business manager of Orchesis. She also made the honor roll, and was a member of the Honor Society, which preceded Phi Beta Kappa. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, where he was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon. He holds an M.A. in Business Administration from Harvard University. He is vice president and member of the Board of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company. At home Greensboro. Among the college friends who gave pre-nuptial parties for Adelaide were: Elizabeth (Wills) Whittington '34, Margaret Knight '36, Annie (Beam) Funderburk '16 and Katherine Sherrill '26, Katherine Bonitz '34, Edna Sockwell, class of '33 and Elizabeth Sockwell '34, Frances Jones '35, Emma White Carlton '35, Claire Hartsook '33, and Sara Burton Clegg '34.

Martha Peele '34 to William Archey Brown, in a morning ceremony, June 19, First Methodist Church, Charlotte. Since her graduation, Martha has taught first grade in the Kannapolis schools. The bridegroom is an alumnus of State College, Raleigh, and is connected with the Cannon Mills, Kannapolis. At home there.

Virginia Rhodes '34 to Robert Wesley Farlow, Jr., June 24, Laurinburg. Last year Virginia taught biology in the high school at Saint Pauls; the year before she assisted her father in his office. The bridegroom is connected with the Standard Oil Company, Greensboro, where they are now at home.

Margaret Spenser '34 to Jack Clare, June 30, in a late afternoon ceremony at the bride's home, Forest Hills, Danville, Va.

Betty Isabelle Wilson '34 to J. Harris Mitchell, June 11, in a formal ceremony at seven in the evening, First Baptist Church, Marion. Since graduation, Betty has taught music in the State School for the Blind, Raleigh. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Culver Military Academy, and of Carleton College. He is a member of the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra and is connected with the music department of the Durham High School. At home Durham.

Saxon Voss '34 to Paul Scarborough, April 18, Rockingham. Since graduation, Saxon has taught piano at Star. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Piedmont College and is engaged in business as the manager of the Coca-Cola plant at Biscoe. At home Star.

Virginia Caroline Truslow '35 to Francis Maxwell Neal, June 27, Methodist Church, Draper. Last year, Virginia taught in the public schools of High Point. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Wake Forest College and of the

The Arcade Beauty Shop

207 South Elm Street

Known for

Individual Permanents
Artistic Haircutting
Lovely Fingerwaves

CALL 6608

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. He is connected in business with the Odell Mill Supply Company, Greensboro. At home there.

Thelma Redmond, Com. '35, to Victor Elwood Neese, June 7, at the home of the bride's parents, near Greensboro. The bridegroom is associated in business with his father in Greensboro. At home there.

Mary Elizabeth Davis '33 to Frank Armfield, Jr., June 1, Chester, South Carolina. In college Mary Elizabeth was vice president of the Quill Club, and poetry editor of Coradi. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, holding both an A.B. and an M.A. from that institution. At present he is engaged in agriculture near Leeds, South Carolina. At home there.

Joyce Fulcher '33 to Philip Ray Jackson, June 20, Washington. The bridegroom is an alumnus of State College, Raleigh, and of the University at Chapel Hill, where he was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. He is connected with the soil conservation service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Betty Griesinger '36 to John Moyer Sink, June 2, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Foust, Greensboro. During her senior year at Woman's College, Betty was vice president of the Student Government Association, was elected to the Masqueraders, exclusive dramatic group, and was also elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. Louise Leil '36 and Margaret Mayhew '36, classmates, were present for the wedding ceremony and assisted in serving during the informal reception which followed the nuptial service. The bridegroom, a son of Mr. J. M. Sink, superintendent of buildings and grounds at Woman's College, is a graduate of the Law School at Duke University, and at present is assistant trust officer of the Security National Bank, Raleigh. He is a member of Sigma Nu Phi legal fraternity of the North Carolina Bar Association, and of the Raleigh Junior Bar. At home Raleigh.

Frances Jarvis Humphreys '36 to Reginald Spencer Marshall, June 13, at the home of the bride's cousins, Winston-Salem. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Guilford College and is now associated with the United States Department of Agriculture. At home Guilford College.

BORN

To Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abernethy (Ethel Thomas '15), a daughter, Julia Isadora, May 16, Shelby.

To Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Snipes (Fannie Carmon '23), a daughter, April 26, Fayetteville.

To Mr. and Mrs. John Dalton (Bertha McRorie '24), Forest City, a first child, a son, Carlisle Webber, March 25, in the Rutherford Hospital, Rutherfordton.

To Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Farrington (Mary Bailey '25), a son, Robert Bailey, a third child, June 4, Thomasville.

To Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Haney (Miriam Dobbins '26), Great Falls, S. C., a first child, a son, Elliott Haney, Jr., November 29, 1935, in the Rutherford Hospital, Rutherfordton.

To Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Howell (Alma Matthews '26), a new baby, spring of 1936.

To Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Richards (Katherine Gregory '27), a son, in April, Tuscaloosa, Louisiana.

To Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nixon (Anne Simkins '27), a daughter, Alice Elizabeth, April 23, Duke University Hospital, Durham.

To Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Jester, Jr. (Betty Brown '31), a daughter, Martha Sparks, May 23, Wesley Long Hospital, Greensboro.

To Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Andrews (Hazel Jenkins '31), a son, a first child, Charles Thomas, June 26, Wesley Long Hospital, Greensboro.

To Mrs. Fred Foster Blevins (Virginia Dalton '33), a daughter, Ann Foster, May 15. The little daughter was born after the death of her father some weeks ago.

JOS. J. STONE & COMPANY

Printers and Bookbinders

Everything for the office

225 South Davie Street • • GREENSBORO, N. C.

AYCOCK AUDITORIUM
WHERE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES ARE HELD

Accumulate a RETIREMENT FUND through the
SALARY SAVINGS PLAN

which has been installed at Woman's College for your benefit and convenience

Insurance Annuities

For Faculty and Students

• •
Harry Smith Spiers

Your Salary Savings
Representative

12th Floor Dial 2-1181

The sooner you plan your future

The better your future will be

• •
Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

GLEND A FARRELL, star of Warner Bros. picture "Miss Pacific Fleet," admires the crystal clearness of her Mojud Clari-phane silk stockings.

BRIGHTEN YOUR WARDROBE with

Mojud
Clari-phane
SILK STOCKINGS

You'll like Clari-phanes . . .
Because they're so beautifully clear.

Because their exclusive "Screenlite" shades were created by Orry-Kelly,
H o l l y w o o d's fashion genius.

Because they're the stockings preferred by Hollywood's best dressed stars.

Clari-phanes are sold in leading stores throughout the country . . .

85c to $1.65